OLD TIMERS WILL GATHER IN PARK WEDNESDAY

'LET WALL STREET KICK,' SAYS WILL, 'LOOK AT FARMERS'

(Special to The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Aug. 13.—The whole financial structure of Wall Street seems to have fallen on the mere fact that the Federal Reserve Bank raised the amount of interest from 5 to 6 per cent. Any business that can't survive a 1 per cent raise must be skating on mighty thin ice. Why even the poor farmers took a raise of from 6 to 10 per cent, with another 10 per cent bonus to get the loan from the banks.

It took all that to completely break them and nobody connected with the government paid any attention but let Wall Street have a nightmare and the whole country has to help get them back in bed again.

Yours,
WILL.

Old Days Will Be Recalled At "Big Run Falls"

Record Crowd Seems Indicated As Committees Complete Elaborate Plans

MANY PRIZES FOR OLDEST PRESENT

Grand March Will Be Headed
By Harvey E. McGoun
And Mrs. Fannie
Gormley

Thousands of Old Timers in this district and hundreds from more distant points are awaiting the zero hour on Wednesday, when they will gather at Cascade Park, better known to some of them as Big Run Falls, for the 23rd annual Old Timers Day.

Preparations for the event have been made on an unusually elaborate scale and weather conditions, permitting and it is believed that the weather man is with the Old Timers, a record crowd seems assured.

Many hundreds of former residents of the city are returning for the opportunity of meeting their old acquaintances and renewing friendships of goneby years.

Grand March
The feature of the afternoon at 2 p. m. D. S. T. will be the annual grand march, which will be led this year by H. E. McGoun, president of the Old Timers association and his daughter Mrs. Fannie Gormley.

Ralph M. Campbell will be in charge of the dance pavilion during the afternoon, which has been reserved for the old timers. There will be on hand, a real first class old time dance caller, who will put these young Old Polks through their paces as in former years.

Another feature of the big affair will be the gold prizes to be awarded certain individuals, who will be in attendance. The prizes will be as follows: $5 to the oldest man, resident of Lawrence county or former resident, in attendance; $5 for the oldest woman with the same qualifications; ten dollars to the couple residing in Lawrence county and married the longest of any of the couples in attendance; and $5 for the person coming from the longest distance to be present.

The committee in charge this year consists of Harvey E. McGoun, chairman; Ralph M. Campbell, vice-chairman; William T. Butz, secretary and treasurer; Howard Morrison, Scott Paisley, Robert H. Whaley, Joseph Hannon and William E. Browne.

Reynoldstowners Meet For Reunion

Gather At One O'Clock For Session At W. N. Aiken
School

The old bell at the W. N. Aiken school building on Pearson street pealed forth at one o'clock today to Old Timers who once were students there, when it was called the Reynoldstown school. The actual business session was to commence at two o'clock.

Selection of a new president to fill the position left vacant by the death of the late John M. Snyder was to occupy most of the time of the one-time students.

Providing the weather continues as it was at noon today, a record crowd of old timers will go to Cascade Park at the close of the session for the annual reunion basket picnic.

One Contagious Case Reported

Freddie Rantz, 219 Winter avenue, today was reported by an attending physician to be suffering with diphtheria. The youngster was taken ill several days ago, but is reported as doing nicely. The report was made to the city health bureau.

Roy Wallis Master Of Ceremonies; Program Enlivened With Bessemer Band

A brass band blared out, a thousand people cheered, a little white tape was snipped, and the Bessemer-State Line Road was opened Monday evening, August 12. A short ceremony, an interesting ceremony, but one which marked the realization of a dream of years of Bessemer folks, for at last their direct link with Ohio was completed, and cars could go through on concrete.

Not only was Bessemer joyous but all of Lawrence County rejoices with them, for it gives the motorists of this county direct line to the Lincoln Highway, a splendid highway that gives another material demonstration of the high calibre of Pennsylvania road building.

"Large Crowd Present"

Certainly all of Bessemer was there, but with the Bessemer people, mingled citizens from Mount Jackson, from Enon Valley, from New Castle and from Youngstown. It was just (Continued On Page Two)

RESCUES GIRL ON LAKE ERIE BEACH

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Aug. 13.—A reputed son of the House of Hapsburg, a prince incognito, lay dead here today while he was mourning by the residents of the little summer colony near here.

Joseph Springer, was living without title and rank and saying nothing of the princely estate in Australia he was believed to have left, gave his life to rescue Mary Wellbrauch, 20, of Pittsburgh, who was living with her family at the summer resort.

The body of Springer was recovered late yesterday.

The vacationists had enjoyed picnicking the serene and courtly Springer in a princely role. Talk of his reputed connection clustered over the teensaps when his life figure passed.

Miss Wellbrauch, who had admitted the police and manliness of the reputed prince, was swimming in Lake Erie when she got too far from shore. She screamed for help.

Springer, on the beach, heard her cries and plunged to her rescue, he got the girl almost to shore, where others could finish the rescue, he was exhausted and before he could be aided, he sank.

COURTROOM, COLUMBUS, Aug. 13.—Dr. James H. Snook was "highly self-possessed" and untrifled when he was undergoing a grilling after his arrest for the slaying of Theora Hix, young campus beauty. This was the testimony today of Harry E. French, chief of police of Columbus, at the trial of the ex-college professor for first degree murder.

"Snook was the most self-composed prisoner that I have ever helped interrogate in 29 years," testified French, a big, heavy-set man with ruddy cheeks and iron gray hair.

Seemed Amused.

"He seemed amused while he was being questioned. He wore a smug smile. He was never ruffled. He tilted back in his chair and talked to us in a most unconcerned manner. He was highly self-possessed."

Police Chief French testified that Snook finally confessed. He declared emphatically that Snook did say that after hitting the girl with the hammer that he slashed her jugular vein "to relieve her suffering."

French was listed as the final witness of the trial. Closing arguments will follow and then, after the court (Continued On Page Two)

Polling Places Announced By Commissioners

Only One Location In Sixth
Ward Has Not Been Established As Yet

NEW PRECINCTS TO BE USED AT ELECTION

With the exception of the third precinct in the Sixth ward, where a suitable location has not yet been secured for a polling place, the county commissioners have completed the task of locating polling places in the new precincts recently established by court order.

Four new precincts were added in the Second ward, one in the third, one in the fourth, and one in the Sixth ward.

It is expected that this will greatly facilitate the task of voting in the different wards in question, where some of the precincts have been overcrowded, and voting has been carried on under difficulties. It will also expedite the counting of the votes in the larger wards.

It is expected to have a suitable location for the third precinct in the Sixth ward established in a few days. The location of the other polling places by precinct is as follows:

First Ward
1st precinct—Service Garage, 318 N. Jefferson street.
2nd precinct—John E. Fee building, 107 1/2 W. Washington street.
3rd precinct—Thompson Bakery, Wilmington and Moody.

Second Ward
1st precinct—Julius Sypher store, 20 N. Mill street.
2nd precinct—Building of W. R. Campbell, 320 E. North street.

3rd precinct—Park Avenue fire engine house.
4th precinct—Dr. Shaffer building, 408 Highland avenue.
5th precinct—J. B. Reed garage, rear 312 Leasure avenue.
6th precinct—Highland avenue United Presbyterian church.

7th precinct—C. L. Hughes garage, rear 234 Euclid avenue.
8th precinct—F. R. McCaslin building, rear 410 Euclid avenue.
9th precinct—M. D. Kelly Garage, rear 309 Hazlercroft avenue.

10th precinct—C. L. Fombelle garage, rear 1302 Highland avenue.

Third Ward
1st precinct—Court House.
2nd precinct—Vine street fire house.

3rd precinct—Building, W. D. Durant, 301 S. Ray street.
4th precinct—Swedish Lutheran church, Crawford avenue.

Fourth Ward
1st precinct—Alderman Mantz's office, 210 Phillips street.
2nd precinct—Ray street fire engine house.

3rd precinct—McKenzie garage, rear 701 E. Lutton street.
4th precinct—Anna Weingartner garage, rear 1201 E. Washington street.

5th precinct—Third U. P. church basement, Adams and Washington streets.
6th precinct—Bethany Lutheran church basement, Lutton and East Washington street.

Fifth Ward
1st precinct—Joseph Conti building, 210 Phillips street.
2nd precinct—Henry Nocera store, 310 E. Long avenue.

3rd precinct—Building George Ott, rear 810 Arlington avenue.

Sixth Ward
1st precinct—William Tucker garage, rear 515 W. Washington street.
2nd precinct—Lawrence Ice and Storage Co., 701 W. Grant street.

3rd precinct—No location decided upon as yet.

Seventh Ward
1st precinct—Fire engine house, Cherry street.
2nd precinct—Martin Binder and Sons tin shop, 4 Mahoning avenue.

3rd precinct—M. J. Scanlon office, 14 1/2 W. Cherry street.

Eighth Ward
1st precinct—Fire engine house, Scioto street.
2nd precinct—Alderman Cooper's office, 114 E. Long avenue.

No Time Limit On Parking Thursday

There will be no time limit on parking Thursday of this week, Mayor W. H. Gillespie, announced this morning.

The regulations are set aside in order to accommodate to the fullest degree the shoppers who will attend the Dollar Day sales which are sponsored by the Better Business Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce.

No parking zones and other traffic rules, stated the mayor must be observed, however.

Register Your Guests

Many New Castle families will have guests here for the Old Timers' picnic which will be held in Cascade Park on Wednesday, August 14.

The News would like to have the names and addresses of all guests who are here for the picnic and to that end asks that any New Castle resident who has guests, come in to The News office or call the office by telephone with the names and addresses.

The News will also establish a registration booth in the dancing pavilion at the Park Wednesday. All Old Timers are urged to register.

FEATURE OF EVENING

New plans for one of the largest outings ever to take place in this city were announced today by the joint committee of business men in charge of arrangements. It will be known as the Merchants First Annual Outing and will be held at Cascade park on August 22.

This outing will be the joint picnic of the Retail Merchant association, Credit Exchange membership, and other business organizations and the entire city is invited to attend.

Dates Conflicted

The picnic of the grocers was scheduled to take place on August 28 and the credit exchange membership were sponsoring a huge corn roast scheduled to occur on August 22.

Committees in charge of these two groups met Monday evening to discuss a joint affair, and the planning of this huge outing was the result of the meeting.

Thus, there will be no grocers picnic on August 28; neither will there be a credit exchange corn roast on August 22, as were the plans; however, there will be a joint picnic sponsored by all merchants of the city and the huge outing will take place at the park on August 22.

Funds which the retail merchants and corn roast committees have collected, will be turned into making this one outing a success. Likewise, committees from both organizations will (Continued On Page Two)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—The earth tremor which shivered through the northeastern section of the continent yesterday probably will not return for a hundred years or more. Dr. Andrey Avinoff, curator of Carnegie Museum and noted scientist said today.

Eight miles underground, a fissure opened and the surrounding strata slid, Dr. Avinoff believed, shaking the earth's crust as it spread.

"Tectonic formation" was the scientific term used by the Carnegie Museum head to describe the character of the earth underlying the states from Connecticut to Ohio and from Ontario to Central Pennsylvania. In the layman's language, that formation would be explained as alternate layers of shale and rock.

RUSSIAN WEATHER
REPORTS ADVERSE

Passengers Somewhat Vexed
By Delay; Big Ship Is Mechanically Per-

By WALTER DIETZEL

FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Aug. 13.—Mechanically perfect after a complete grooming, the Graf Zeppelin today waited only for more favorable weather for the start of the second leg of her round-the-world flight.

Although it had been hoped that the air liner would be able to get away late tonight or early tomorrow morning, reports of poor weather conditions over Russia resulted in an announcement that the start would not be made until four o'clock Thursday morning.

Passengers Vexed
The announcement came as a disappointment to the twenty passengers and 41 of the Zeppelin's crew. They had been eager to get away as soon as possible on the flight to Tokyo.

Refueling of the huge craft has almost been completed. All minor adjustments deemed necessary by Commander Hugo Eckener after the Graf's record flight from Lakehurst, have been made.

Permission from the Soviet government allowing the Zeppelin to fly over Soviet territory has been received. Only threatening storms in the East now stand in the way of the start of the long, hazardous journey over the Siberian wastelands to the Japanese capital.

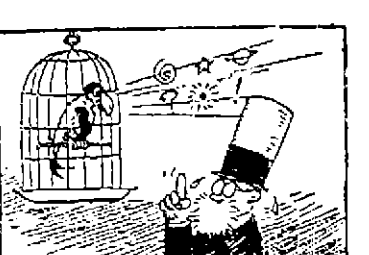

On the flight to Tokyo, the longest hop of the world flight, the Zeppelin will carry a capacity load of fuel. Dr. Eckener calculates that the ship will be in the air at least 120 hours on the 6,600 mile journey.

Every possible means will be taken to economize on fuel. To this end, Dr. Eckener indicated, only four of the Graf's five motors may be in use part of the time. Four motors, he estimated, would propel the Zeppelin through the air at a sufficiently fast rate, especially when favorable following winds were present.

Dr. Eckener has not decided definitely upon the route he will follow. He will not pick his route until the last minute before the start in order to take advantage of the most favorable weather conditions.

He may take a northerly route over (Continued On Page Two)

Here to my hearties, let go a cheer, and a couple of lardy wots, for it wont be long till the pishkin game is taking its annual bows. A few more weeks and the gridders bold will hike for the tall unt, and the trainers there will send back reports, that are gloomy and nothing but, the fullback has weakened his permanent wave, and the tackles are full of hops, and the ends play round like a couple of sheep, will somebody call the cops. On those training stories are usually bunk, for when it comes time to play, they'll look like an army of well fed brutes, it's warm, eighty-eight today.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Today the Reynoldstowners are meeting at their old school house once again. Grade school children usually forget companions when they go to high school, college, and out into life. Not so in this case. It is a wonderful organization and the fact that this group have gathered every year for so long bespeaks of the happy school that it must have been.

Then again, on Wednesday the Old Timers meet at the park for another reunion. The entire Newc family express their hope that Old Sol will shine throughout the day in order that the gathering may be successful and pleasant.

New Castle starts playing host to the official delegates of the American Order of True Iovites this afternoon. The group will be here until Thursday evening. Remember, their treatment at the hands of the citizenry will give them their impression of New Castle.

Watch your step, all black cats, and keep out from under any ladders. It isn't Friday but it is the 13th.

Latest slam heard by Pa Newc: "You couldn't pass the intelligence test to enter Folk." Incidentally, the remark was not directed at Pa Newc.

Morning newboys who cover the Highland avenue route should cease littering that thoroughfare with papers. Pa Newc passed by one corner this morning where a bundle had been opened and the wrapping paper scattered about. A little more care on the part of the boys would go a long way toward keeping the street presentable.

Reports today indicate that quite a few persons felt the slight earthquake shock Monday morning. Some of the janitors in downtown buildings reported that the pictures were shaken off walls in some rooms.

The city is co-operating with the Better Business Bureau in their retail trade extension scheduled for Thursday. Park as long as you want to in the regular designated zones.

More old time stories were scheduled to be swapped by old timers meeting at the W. N. Aiken school on Pearson street. The reunion in past years has attracted former students of what was then the Reynoldstown (Continued On Page Two)

British Seeking Bigger Slice Of German Payments

Great Britain Thinks That She Should Have Bigger Portion Of Reparations

(International News Service) THE HAGUE, Aug. 13.—At least one set of compromise proposals to meet Great Britain's demand for a larger share of German reparations will be presented when the financial commission meets tomorrow. It was learned from an authoritative source this afternoon.

As private conferences among the British, French, Belgian, Italian and German delegates continued this afternoon it was understood that an effort was being made to work out a compromise that would be mutually satisfactory without throwing the entire Young plan into the discard.

The negotiators were seeking concessions all round so that the whole burden would not fall upon any particular power.

Conflict Threatened

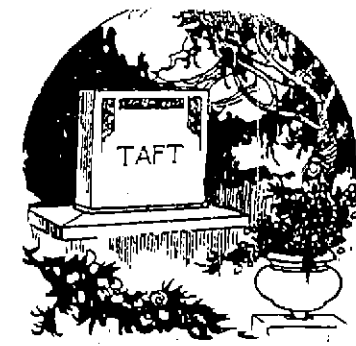

Further conflict is threatened over deliveries in kind by Germany. The English want payments of this kind discontinued; the Germans want them to continue.

The experts of the political commission were to renew their discussion of Rhineland evacuation during the autumn, while the French are seeking delay. The divergent viewpoints upon Rhineland evacuation have already resulted in one sharp clash between Foreign Minister Stresemann, of Germany, and Foreign Minister Briand, of France.

NEW ROAD CONNECTING BESSEMER STATE LINE OPENED MONDAY NIGHT

another of those state line affairs that cement friendship, promotes progress and sends citizens home to bed believing in the other fellow. The program got under way at 7:45 P. M. with Roy Wallis representing the Boosters Club of Bessemer acting as chairman of the evening. Mr. Wallis wasted but little time in his introductory remarks. He bespoke the jubilation of his townspeople of Bessemer and then introduced Senator George T. Weingartner, who shares with the County Commissioners of this county the credit for getting the road through.

Senator Weingartner spoke briefly, but very much to the point. "This occasion is a matter of peculiar pleasure for me," said he, "for in the past twenty five years I have been in rather close touch with road building in this county. I represented this district as senator in 1911 when the original road program was laid out. I served five years as a county commissioner of this county, when our own county program was developed, and in the past three sessions of the Pennsylvania State Senate I have served you, sessions that have been fraught with the greatest importance to this county in the matter of roads."

"Waited its Turn"

"Let me congratulate you people of Bessemer for the splendid road. You realized that other districts were pressing for roads, that there were other important links to be connected, but yet you went along cheerfully. It was this spirit of sportsmanship that prompted such quick action for your road when the opportunity presented itself and tonight I am most happy to be with you in the opening of this important link."

"This link marks the eighth road leading out of the county seat to other county or state lines. Soon the ninth road will be let and this will be the ninth. But in your jubilation tonight, remember that not all of the people of this county are out of the mud yet. There are other districts that want roads and it is up to you and me to see that they get them just as soon as possible. This means money, it means taxes, but we must all continue our co-operation in the matter."

"In the biennium starting June 1, 1929, this county will get back from the State of Pennsylvania in road money, more than a million dollars. This means something, I believe. It means that very shortly Lawrence County will have a road system not surpassed by any county in the state. Commissioners McCullough and Elder were then introduced and received a rousing hand."

Parade Forms

Immediately following Senator Weingartner's address he cut the tape and several hundred automobiles paraded to the Ohio state line and the service was at hand. Short but full of meaning for no one can set down in dollars and cents what this new concrete road will mean to Lawrence county.

Proceeding the meeting and following the address the Bessemer band pleased the crowd with some martial music.

Lynn Steinbrink of East Washington street, clerk at the Mahoningtown post office, has returned from a week's vacation.

Some men hitch their wagon to a star; others tie up with a movie queen.

QUAKE WON'T BE BACK FOR ANOTHER CENTURY

people will be shaken from their beds again very soon, or that there would be anything more than tremors even though a disturbance did recur," Dr. Avinoff said. "The quake was not near the surface, nor violent."

"Probably eight or more miles beneath the earth the strata slipped a bit, readjusted itself."

"But the geological formation in these states is one of the most secure types composing the crust of the earth. There is little chance of its doing anything radical. This section of the continent, at least, is safe."

"Volcanic earthquakes usually are of violent intensity and localized opening cracks in the surface of the earth. Quakes resulting from redistribution of bodies of water lying miles underground may be as disastrous to certain districts."

Japan Shifting

"In Japan, for instance, the earth seems to be in constant process of shifting."

The Japanese Islands, Dr. Avinoff said, are not yet completed in geological structure. New ranges and valleys are rising and sinking, with the result that quakes are frequent.

But the North American continent, a venerable old gentleman in the geological world, has almost settled himself for a few geological snoozes of an age or two, before he reasserts his right to mutation.

Theories had been expounded yesterday that changes in the Great Lakes might have been responsible for the quake.

Dr. Avinoff admitted that studies had been made by Carnegie Museum officials of a changing shore line at Presque Isle, near Erie, Pa., but that change, he said, was due not to crinkling of the earth's crust, but to shifting shore tides in the lake.

No Lake Changes

"I know of no changes in Lake Erie or other lakes that would warrant a belief that release of underground supplies of water into the lake caused the quake yesterday," Dr. Avinoff said. "The Great Lakes are very well behaved bodies of water so far as we know."

Dr. Avinoff did not believe that the disturbance was localized to a subterranean district, although the slide may have originated near Bellefonte, Pa.

"That type of an earthquake is of widespread effect, and not usually intensified in one place," the scientist declared. "The type of formation precludes almost a violent shake in one small district, and also insures us against a return now that the readjustment has been made."

CHIEF OF POLICE WITNESS TODAY AT SNOOK TRIAL

gives his instructions, the case will go to the jury—probably tomorrow.

Police Chief French told the jury that when Snook was ready to confess he was offered the use of a typewriter but declined, saying he preferred to dictate it to a stenographer. This he did, according to the witness.

No Threats Made

"Were any threats or promises made to Dr. Snook before he signed the confession?" French was asked by Assistant Prosecutor Paul C. Hicks.

"No," replied the police chief. "Chief French, didn't you say to Dr. Snook: 'Doctor, now that you have confessed, doesn't your conscience feel better?' and didn't he say yes?"

"Yes, that's correct."

The chief, in pointing out that the confession was not obtained under duress, declared that after he confessed, Snook shook hands with Prosecutor John J. Chester, Jr., who had slapped him when he had lost his patience. Snook also shook hands with Chief French.

The witness related that the prosecutor had apologized to Snook after he slapped him and that Snook said: "Oh, that's all right, Jack."

Little Comedy

Chief French parried Defense Attorney Ricketts' questions so cleverly Ricketts said: "Are you by any chance a lawyer?" and French came right back with: "No, it's bad enough to be a policeman." The spectators roared.

Ricketts reverted to the grilling of Snook by the police. He brought out that Snook was at police headquarters for 23 hours. But, according to the chief, he was not grilled all of that time.

Q. Oh, you kept him on a pedestal for exhibition the rest of the time?

A. No, we left that for you to do at this trial.

Ivorites Start Meetings Today

True Ivorites Convention Starts At Legion Home This Afternoon

Shortly after 2 o'clock today, the first sessions of the national convention of True Ivorites began in the American Legion home on North Jefferson street. Mrs. Richard Williams from Utica, N. Y., national president of the order, was in charge.

Councilman D. O. Davies was to make the official address of welcome to the visitors who are here to attend to the business of the Welsh order.

The remainder of today's sessions will be devoted to registration and business of the organization. This evening will start the program off at the First Congregational church on East Reynolds street. A lengthy musical program will be presented at this time.

Wednesday morning will find the business meeting going on again, and the same is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon. In the evening the tureen dinner at the park will occur following an automobile tour of the city.

Thursday's sessions will mark the close of the convention, and that evening the meetings will be climaxed by a banquet at the First Christian church. D. O. Davies and Hon. Bart Richards will be speakers at this dinner.

Delegates from the two local lodges are Mrs. Griff Thomas and John Harward.

GREENSBURG, Pa., Aug. 13.—A romance between Phillip T. Berry, 29, official of Clovis, N. M., and Miss Josephine Null of Greensburg, became known today only through the death of Berry.

Word that Berry had been killed in a plane crash brought the admission that he and Miss Null had been engaged to be married.

MERCHANTS JOIN TO HOLD PICNIC ON AUGUST 22ND

function to complete arrangements for the gathering.

Expect 25,000

Just how many people will attend is not to be guessed. The committee are planning for not less than 25,000 people and considering the fact that all business houses are participating and that every one is invited, there is little doubt but that it will be the largest single outing ever to take place here.

The park has been taken over for the day and there will be free tickets for the kiddies, swimming pool rates will be reduced, there will be free dancing, 150 five dollar baskets of food will be given away, an electric refrigerator will be won by some lucky person, and there will be many other prizes.

The picnic will begin at eight o'clock in the morning, and as a member of the committee stated, continue indefinitely.

Just what the people wish to eat will be partly a matter for their own individual consideration. It will not be what one would call a basket picnic for thousands of water sandwiches, barrels of coffee, and gallons of milk will be given away free to everyone.

Races and Sports

In the afternoon, there will be the customary program of sports for all and there are already a large number of real prizes slated for the participants.

In the evening there will be a huge display of fireworks at the park and the sky fire will mark the close of a very perfect day.

On Thursday of this week, merchants will form a parade down town in order that all of the county visitors to Dolly Day may know of the more elaborate which is being planned. These persons from the county are also to understand that they are cordially invited.

According to the plans of the merchants this outing will mark the first real New Castle Day ever to be held.

Deaths of the Day

George H. C. Alles
George Henry Oliver Alles, aged 26, died at his home, 1502 West Washington street, at 12:15 Tuesday afternoon after an illness of two months. Mr. Alles had been a resident in this city for 20 years. He was born June 10, 1903, at Red Key, Ind., and was the son of August and Frances Wilkinson Alles. He was a salesman and employed by the Snyder Piano Co. of this city.

He was a member of the Epworth M. E. church and was unmarried. He is survived by his parents and four sisters, Mrs. Anna Pagley, Mrs. Ora Bassell, Mary and Ruth Alles, all of this city.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at two p. m. at the residence. Burial will be made in the Graceland cemetery.

GRAF ZEPPELIN IS HELD IN HANGAR BY BAD WEATHER

Berlin, Danzig, the Baltic Sea, Leningrad, across the Ural Mountains, then skirting the Arctic Sea before turning south for the Amur river and Manchuria, or he may head directly eastward from Friedrichshafen taking a course dependent entirely upon weather conditions.

The twenty passengers include several who could give expert aid to the ship's crew in an emergency. These are Commander Charles E. Rosendahl and Lieut. J. C. Richardson of the U. S. Navy and Commander Na-shiro Fujiyoshi, of the Japanese, all three of whom have had long, dirigible experience.

Friedrichshafen, Germany, Aug. 13.—The round-the-world passengers of the Graf Zeppelin were notified this afternoon to be ready to start on continuation of the 21,700 mile flight between midnight tomorrow night and 5 o'clock Thursday morning.

According to present arrangements there will be 20 passengers, a crew of 40, a consignment of mail and a host of the late Baron Von Huenefeld aboard when the airliner puts off by way of Soviet Russia.

The Huenefeld bust, which was designed of Olaf Lempke, is a gift to the Japanese Emperor.

No Freight

No freight will be carried to permit a maximum amount of fuel to be stowed aboard.

The Graf is expected to travel 6,000 miles on the next leg of her long voyage. It is estimated that this distance can be covered in 120 hours unless there are storms or motor troubles. Experts state that the Graf will carry sufficient fuel for 180 hours flying.

When she takes the air for Tokyo the Zeppelin will contain 70,000 cubic meters of hydrogen 30,000 cubic meters of blue gas and 12 tons of benzine.

An official of the Zeppelin works told International News Service the Graf would have sufficient food to last for an extended period in case of a forced landing.

DR. CLEELAND AT BROTHERS WEDDING

Dr. Carl L. Cleeland of the First National Bank of Lawrence County building has returned from Cleveland, O., where on Saturday he took part in the wedding ceremony of his brother, acting as best man.

The principals in the wedding were his brother, Rev. Earl Cleeland, formerly pastor of the Episcopal church known as the Little Church Around the Corner in New York and Miss Mae Robertson, daughter of Dr. Robertson, noted clergyman of Edinburgh, Scotland.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Dr. Ian Robertson, brother of the bride, and first assistant at Trinity Episcopal Cathedral, Cleveland, where the ceremony took place.

Guests At Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Canon and son of Sumner avenue, were among the out of town guests at the wedding of Miss Mary Canon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Canon of Hermitage, and Ralph Norman Irwin of Columbus, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Irwin of Crawfordsville, Ind. The ceremony took place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at Hermitage Inn, Sharon, Pa., with Rev. H. E. Phipps officiating.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father was gowned in shell pink tulle, with picture hat and tinted slippers to match. She carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds and lilies of the valley.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. K. F. Burns, and Mr. Burns served as best man.

A reception followed at the bride's home, and covers were laid for eight at the bride's table.

The bride is a graduate of Sharon high school, Oberlin Kindergarten school and attended Chicago and Columbia universities, and for the past two years has acted as critic teacher in the schools of Columbus.

Mr. Irwin is a graduate of Wabash college, and is in charge of the Columbus office of the Stafford Engraving Company.

Following a trip through the New England states Mr. and Mrs. Irwin will reside in Columbus, Ohio.

A TARIFF PROBLEM

DEMOCRATIC leaders in the senate vow they will fight to the last ditch the reported purpose of the senate finance committee to create some form of domestic valuation as a basis for rates in the new tariff bill. This declaration of war is inspired by the suspicion that the plan is an undercover scheme for boosting the whole level of import duties.

This charge is groundless, and other arguments against a domestic valuation can appeal only to those who are ignorant of the questions involved in this issue of valuation.

A century ago an American statesman cynically inquired why the United States should not allow foreign nations to write their own tariff schedules, since the effect would be the same as the effect of a foreign valuation.

In order to render the tariff effectively protective, duties cannot be levied in the main upon the quantities or measurements of imported goods. They must be based upon the value of these articles. Foreign valuations, with some exceptions, are used for this purpose. And "foreign valuation" means the foreigner fixes the value of the goods he is shipping to America, and consequently, in considerable measure, the amount of the duties he will have to pay.

In view of these facts, it is difficult to see how a fair and effective tariff schedule can be arrived at without the aid of a "domestic valuation."

USELESS CAPITAL SHIPS

THE numbers and total tonnage of capital ships—formerly known as superdreadnoughts—were fixed by treaty at the Washington conference seven years ago. Capitalship strength as between England and the United States is well balanced. Japan stands in a ratio of five to three, with France and Italy bringing up the rear on a basis of mutual equality.

Reduction all around in this type of warship, which is proposed by the current trend of naval discussions, would leave the essential proportions unchanged.

It is quite possible that the complete abolition of capital ships will be seriously contemplated. The argument against further construction is stronger than can be adduced against other units.

These great floating forts are limited, in time of war, to two uses—fighting other capital ships and bombarding an enemy's coast. The neat balance of the battle line would be undisturbed if two belligerent nations kept all their ships of this type at home. And in coastal bombardments the superdreadnought is by many experts regarded as having been made obsolete by coast-defense and aviation development.

All world powers will effect savings in the millions for themselves if they can agree upon preserving the present proportions or to scrapping capital ships altogether.

"IMPERIALISM"

DURING a discussion at the University of Virginia Institute of Public Affairs the charge was made that sinister motives are actuating American loans to Latin American countries. This is not a new charge and it apparently reflects a popular point of view. Sinister motives have played their part in Pan-American relations, but to assume that sinister motives are behind all American loans to South and Central American republics is to overlook the real reason for the lending.

North America lends to Latin America that the people of the latter may buy the manufacturers of the United States and develop the natural resources which provide us with raw materials and increase Latin American demand for our manufactured goods. If this motive is sinister, then all trade and all money-making are sinister.

That much talked of "American imperialism" is a reaching out for trade, not for land and power. Such imperialism has been practiced in turn by Phoenicia, by Greece, by Rome, by Spain, by France and by England. And it is a form of imperialism which the borrowers must admit is most benevolent to them.

School time is approaching, as all youngsters know.

Perhaps Hoover spends his week-ends in the woods to get away from the big navy propagandists.

Dora, finding there was an extra player the other afternoon, solved the problem by dealing five hands for bridge.

Every little girl goes through a spell of playing "house." The problem is to keep her that way after the wedding.

We can find nothing in Emily Post's valued manual of table behavior on how to remove a watermelon seed from the ear.

When it comes to removing a prop from under the stock boom, the federal reserve banks appear to have an effective method.

If war is finally outlawed and disarmament becomes a reality, there are indications that it will have to be over the dead bodies of professional soldiers.

The Italian population continues to stand still, despite the fact that few Italians succeed in escaping, and somebody will go to jail for ignoring the Two-spot's command to breed cannon fodder.

"It is not to the hunting as bunting, but to the flag as the flag, that hats are taken off," says Mrs. Gann. And, after they are taken off, are they put back on again, Mrs. Gann, and why?

Meteorological Flight.

Planning for Glory.

Everything-Is Possible.

Only A Meteor.

SAN SIMON, Cal., Aug. 13.—In two or three days, Dr. Eckener will be flying his Zeppelin over Siberian plains and hills where dinosaurs once laid their eggs, and on to Tokio. Then will come the flight cross the narrow northern end of the Pacific, south along the west coast to Los Angeles, and back to the Atlantic.

Well many statesmen, fliers and engineers of the world send their congratulations to Dr. Eckener, who at 61 years of age opens a new path around the world.

The air voyage from Lakehurst to Friedrichshafen is described by Dr. Eckener as a "meteorological" accomplishment, a battle with wind and weather.

Flying comparatively low, the Zeppelin obtained the assistance of winds which aided 35 miles per hour to the ship's speed, breaking the world's long-distance air-speed record.

In future flights, with airships perfected, and heavier than air, flying will be done far above any clouds, at heights where high winds, fogs and storms are unknown.

And air flying will be done on schedule time, with less uncertainty than on a modern railroad.

As there are no waves or storms a short distance below the ocean's surface, so all is tranquil a few miles up in the air, only a slow, perpetual breeze, following the earth's turning toward the East.

Returning to earth, you learn that the latest building plan is for a structure one hundred stories high, plus ten stories below the ground. Men from the first have been reaching, even, upward.

Phoenix, Ariz., reads with horror about five former policemen, and their plan to achieve glory.

They are accused of making two Mexicans and a Nicaraguan drunk, then persuading them to break into a drug store.

When the burglary was attempted, the conspirators shot two of the men dead, wounded the third. The plan was to be praised and rewarded.

You read that with horror. But when ancient kings deliberately started war, for their own glory, killing thousands, how much better were they, than the five conspirators, killing only two?

It is in history, it is glory. If it is in the slums, it is murder.

The Associated Press reports that seventy Italian bishops, and numerous heads of religious orders appeal to the Pope to "proclaim dogmatically the assumption of the Blessed Virgin, her ascension into Heaven, bodily, as well as spiritually."

The request will be considered at the coming Ecumenical Council, and if proclaimed dogmatically by the Pope, the bodily ascension from Palestine into Heaven, will become part of the faith, not to be questioned.

Changing ideas as to the dimensions of the universe, and the probable location of Heaven, might cause the Vatican authorities to hesitate.

But the seventy bishops might well suggest that if a German scientist can ascend bodily, as well as spiritually, into the air, taking sixty human beings with him and sail around the earth, it is not unreasonable to assume that the Creator of the universe, could easily arrange a bodily assumption from earth to Heaven.

Things that once called or miraculous powers are now matters of scientific certainty.

There was a tremor, mysterious, loud noise, and a shock that disturbed the residents of East Bay on this coast.

Now you are told the disturbance "was only a meteor falling into the bay."

Coming through the air, made red hot by its friction, the meteor dived down to join millions of others, at the bottom of the ocean, sending up a cloud of steam as it fell.

"Only a meteor," is interesting proof of our tendency to ignore the most important things.

If that meteor could tell where it has been, what it has seen, during billions of years, flying through space, before earth's gravity captured it, it would impart information possessed by no man. That information would be more important than the gentle mediums' message, "Mamma is happy."

The real news of our little earth interests us only faintly.

The five ex-policemen, arranging a murder, interest those that care little about the German debt payment, involving billions in cash, and perhaps future wars.

And the details of the tariff flight, including the possible addition of $200,000,000 a year to the cost of sugar, do not interest the average man as much as the shape of his fall hat.

Local news is the thing. A baby falling down stairs in your house is 10 times as important as 10,000 engulfed by a volcano "somewhere out in the Pacific."

Mussolini now permits public singing of the Garibaldi hymns, barred until recently, since Fascism took charge of Italy.

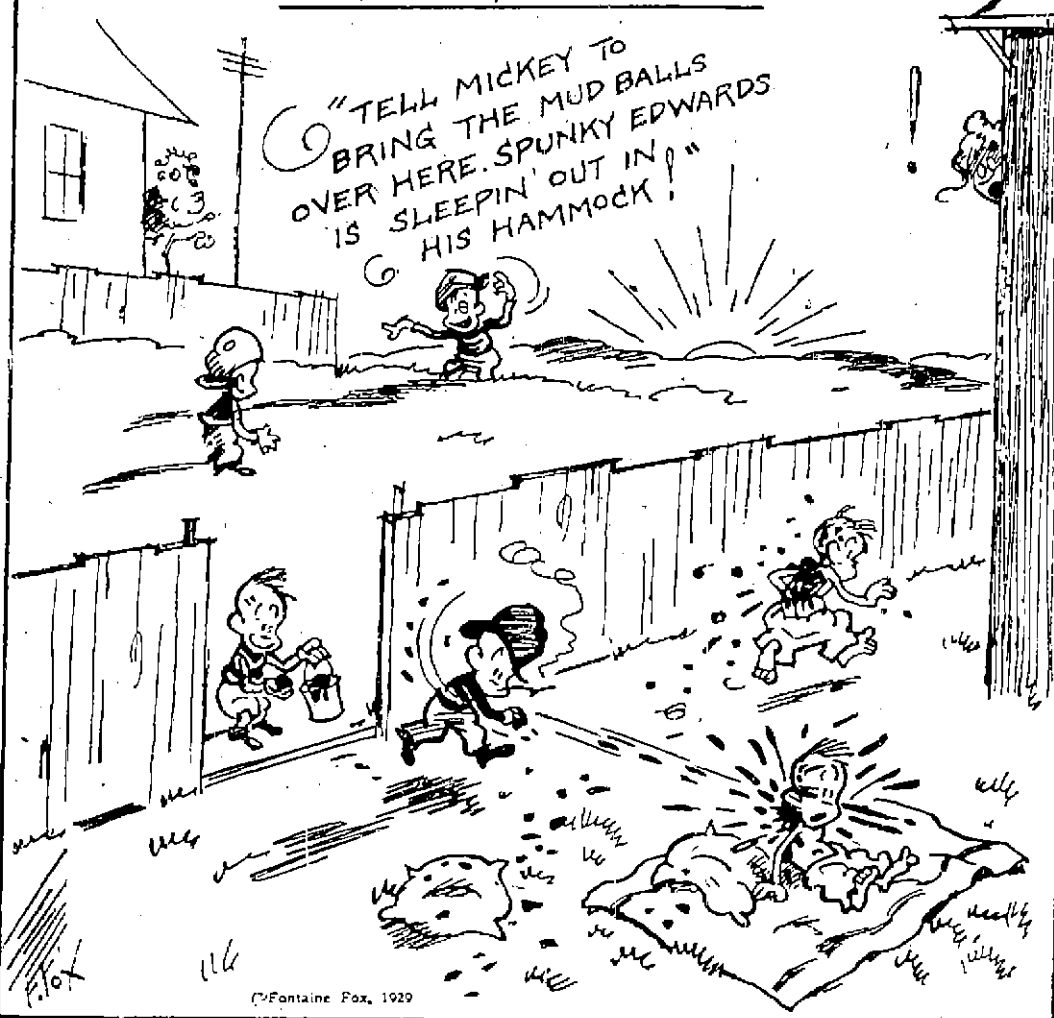

Once, all over Italy you saw pictures of Garibaldi, and even trained parrots sang "the tombs open, the dead arise, our martyrs have all come back."

Garibaldi, if his tomb could open, and he arise, would be much interested in modern Italy.

We wonder what Benjamin Franklin's views would have been on birth control, he having been the 15th child in a family of 17?

Our idea of a girl who is nice enough to eat, is that she does eat—and plenty.

The perfect snob is the arrogant patron in a ten-cent store who asks to see something more expensive.

The jail at Beaver Falls is commended as a first class jail. We wonder who decides when a jail is first class, the inmates or those on the outside.

In a lot of places the office of tax collector is the one most sought. While no tax collector is ever popular the money he gets for doing the work is very much all right and there are people who do not care what others think so long as they get what they want.

WHEN DOES THE NEXT TRAIN LEAVE? (Interesting information on a little folder describing the service of one of the crack trains of a well-known railroad.)

One of the things that Dr. Snook person in Columbus carried in his car was a hammer and he kept it where he could reach it easily. He is just about like all hammer throwers.

If every person who drives an automobile had to be financially responsible for all the damage he does while driving a car there would be a lot of reckless drivers driven off the road right away. "Well, I shall be pleased to hang a heavy tapestry on the walls."

"But then we can't hear what the neighbors say."

What's become of the good old lady who made a big cake from an eight-egg "recipe" and either got mad or thought it wasn't good if the family didn't eat it all up—the same day?

OLD TIMES REVIEWED

The Hints and Dints man received a communication, which appears below. The writer of it makes some assertions which are wrong. However, we are printing his stuff just to show to what extent some folks will go when writing about their friends. You read it now:

New Castle, Pa., Aug. 10, 1929.

Dear Fred:

Allow me to congratulate you on the fact that you have reached your forty-seventh year on "The News". You started as the "Devil", and have attained the position where you can tell everyone to go to the "Devil", without anyone saying you nay.

When we were boys together on the great East Side, roaming the hillsides of the G. M. & J. quarries, trading dime novels and smoking Paddy Finnan's home grown tobacco, little did we think that almost fifty years hence, you would be the "Ruler of the Universe" in newspaperdom in New Castle.

The Old East-Side! When one thinks of the old crowd of boys with no cares, and darned little clothing, who played and fought with each other, went to "Old Central" school, and then one by one stepped out into the busy world to make a living for a bunch of girls and boys of their own. When we were kids one could tell by the way we were clothed, what the financial conditions of our parents was.

It is different now. Today it is impossible to tell by the dress of the boys and girls whether their parents are Bankers or Laborers. The number of cylinders in the automobile means nothing in determining the financial standing of the driver or owner.

We are glad that our children do not have to wear "Kentucky" Jeans, and the choice of two kinds of underwear—"Red Flannel" or nothing.

When I started this letter I did not think that I would start to rambling about the past, as I have a very serious matter to take up with you. A few days ago you stated in the H. & D. column that "some bird" had appeared in public in his pajamas, and wound up by saying that you would not be seen in pajamas for the reason that you were night suits, some with sleeves and some without sleeves.

Freddie your close friends will be surprised at this acknowledgment. It is unbelievable. Why confound your where in your wild and woolly career did you become so attached to the old "Mother Hubbard" type of undress that you should blow about it, and try and make your readers believe it to be an accomplishment to wear a "nightie". You used to drive a horse and buggy, but have changed to a "Four-lined Limousine". As a young fellow you never wore a neck-tie, and now you tie speak for themselves. You do not crawl into your shirts as of yore, and why you cling to the "old shirt" is beyond me. Perhaps Joe Bulger can fathom it, I cannot.

Mr. Fred Rentz, here is a challenge to you. You take a great number of pictures, and I dare you to have your picture taken in your nightie, and look at it. You would never show it to your friends, and if your many enemies ever got a glimpse of it, you would be "sunk".

Of course you may be "tuning" up the old night shirt, by having baby-ribbon inter-woven around the neck, and rosettes of some material at the wrists. You say that some of your shirts are sleeveless, which goes to prove that you are following the present day styles. It follows of course that you have been shortening the skirts also. No doubt you have shortened and shortened them, until today skirts are not skirts any more, but mere abbreviations.

Fred you are kidding yourself when you say that you are not wearing pajamas. You may not be wearing a full suit but you are wearing the coat part of the suit, and then try to mislead your readers by publishing in H. & D. that—"Yes we wear no pajamas."

The only advantage in wearing the old night shirt is that in this present day of bobbed hair, the wearer would stand a pretty good chance to be rescued first, should a fire break out in ones home. It is up to you to prove to your readers the advantages of the night shirt. When one sees a man in one, he is led to believe that the "Darwin Theory" has some merit. Your friends will all be pleased to see the pictures.

East-Sider.

There are times in the lives of all men when they get so badly cornered—not cornered—that they do not know what to say or which way to turn. They know if they say the things they ought to say or do and do not want to do they will begin wrong. And there are times when just keeping still is worse than saying the things a lot of people will not like.

If you wonder whether you have a right to do it, think what the result would be if everybody did it.

Rockerless rockers are the latest. Those who use them sit in a chair with four legs and just away their bodies forward and backwards and sideways. This is said to reduce those who want to reduce. Being taken for a nut is about the worst thing about a performance of that kind, but there are so many nuts these days this may not be noticed so much.

A citizen of most any foreign country can be arrested for leaving his home land without a passport and he cannot get into this country without one, so when he gets back home he is sure of a rest in jail.

We know men who have never touched a drop of liquor and who are against it in every way. These same men do not get credit for their opinions and principles. On the other hand we also know men who are supposed to be against booze in every way and they will drink any given amount of liquor any time and any place. We have received some terrible shocks along this line.

The man who said there is a place for everything never tried to adjust a punch to the built-in table of a breakfast room.

Some villain tried to shoot the king of Afghanistan with a gun of course and missed him. This riled the king up quite a bit, but we do not know whether it was because the assassin did not hit him or not. Anyhow the king has ordered several bushels of kopecks, wampum, chink, sirloins or whatever they call their mamasma in that country for the capture of the bird who tried to plunk his hide.

Some men carry queer looking knives. The other day we saw a bird unhealth one from somewhere in his clothing that looked more like a meat ax than a knife. One could kill a cow easily with a tool like that. He evidently does not carry it just to pick his teeth with at that.

We notice where the officers in charge of the forest in this country—and the forests are getting scarcer every year—are asking the cigarette smokers to use care when they throw away the butts of their cigs. Millions of acres of forest land has been burned up by careless cig smokers. We wonder if just asking these careless birds will do any good. You probably have noticed how some of them discarded the butts of cigs—just spit 'em out anywhere!

People don't want to be reformed—they want to be entertained.

Connecticut's Muddle Warring Against Official Irregularity

Court Decision Wiping Out Fifteen Hundred Unsigned Statutes May Open Way To All Kinds Of Complications

Connecticut's problem resulting from a court decision holding invalid some fifteen hundred laws passed in the last decade because governors failed to sign them within the constitutional limit of the days after the adjournment of the legislature is discussed seriously by the press as an illustration of the dangers in official irregularity, although some observers are inclined facetiously to congratulate the state upon getting rid of so many statutes.

"On the whole it is an extremely awkward situation as it leaves in a state of illegality, financial operations of some importance," is the serious comment of the SPRINGFIELD UNION. The fear that "the way may be opened for a wealth of litigation that will give the lawyers and courts something to do for years to come" is expressed also by the NORFOLK LEDGER-DISPATCH, which feels that it "is surprising that the technicality was not caught earlier, unless lawyers in Connecticut are different from those elsewhere."

"The question arises, for example," according to the COLUMBUS OHIO STATE JOURNAL, "as to whether a gas tax that was levied continued in force, whether the salaries of State officers that were increased remain at the new levels, what is to be done about appropriations, now held invalid, that have been spent, as to bond issues, now ruled unconstitutional, that have been floated, and so on. The situation emphasizes the tremendous power that resides in the courts."

"The NEW YORK EVENING POST believes that "it is too much to expect that they can patch things up right enough now so that no loopholes will be left for mischief makers seeking to gain some advantage from the court decision."

"The whole situation," remarks the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "illustrates the extreme complexity of human relations which must be regulated by statute. It shows that even the absolute minimum of law required to regulate the affairs of the present-day commonwealth is quite bulky. * * * Conditions of modern life are changing rapidly and so radical changes are required. Connecticut can no more proceed under the statutes of 1920 than under the statutes of 1790."

"The plight of Connecticut folk, carries with it a moral and a warning," says the BOSTON TRANSCRIPT. "It would seem that the question in that State has taken the form of 'What's the Constitution among governors?' The provision was regarded as in a state of innocuous desuetude. Governors ignored it. Hereafter, it is safe to say, every Connecticut governor will see to it that he does not give opportunity for similar slaughter of legislative enactments."

A court decision impresses the ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT as a warning of the danger in following short cuts in legislating, in adopting forced constructions to fit official convenience rather than verbal truth, in refusing the reapportionment of the membership of lawmaking bodies for partisan or prejudiced reasons, as has been done by Congress and many State legislative bodies. Evasion, legal fictions, neglect of plain duties," continued that paper, "may seem to prosper for a time, but sooner or later some sort of courage will be forced to take cognizance of such derelictions and sweep away what has been done by those unauthorized or by methods lacking sanction."

Considering the question whether a governor would be able to comply with the constitution under certain circumstances produced by the volume of legislation, the HARTFORD TIMES agrees that three days is too short a time, but pays the tribute to a former State executive: "The 1911 session, which lasted until September, was quite as great an offender as others, in the amount of legislation it dumped on the governor's desk at adjournment, yet Governor Baldwin disposed of every bit of it, both public and private, within three days. On only three occasions has the Legislature sat the full time allowed by the Constitution. It has plenty of time for orderly procedure and usually there is time for a recess which would permit the governor to consider bills."

"Would a conscientious governor, one who felt it incumbent to protect the interests of the people," asks the CHARLESTON DAILY MAIL, "sign any measure without closely scrutinizing it for 'jokers' or 'alternations'? The Constitution of a State, when it requires an executive's signature to a measure to make it effective, thereby imposes fully as much responsibility on the executive as it does on the legislators. In order to give proper attention to the measure, governors must have time, and sufficient time."

"It would be a good plan if the legislatures should set aside certain days of a week of each session to be devoted solely to the repeal of useless laws," contends the CHARLESTON EVENING POST, while the DES MOINES TRIBUNE-CAPITAL suggests a "statute of limitations," under which it would be necessary for laws to be "reconsidered every ten years," and the DULUTH HERALD believes "it would be a good time for Connecticut to make a general revision of its code."

"Happy Connecticut" is the comment of the DAYTON DAILY NEWS. The YOUNGSTOWN VINDICATOR holds that "the state has still enough laws on the books" to return to the STATE JOURNAL voices the conviction that "there are many States that would like to have a chance of this kind."

I am now jotting down a few notes as I sit in my compartment of the Trans-Siberian Express before it pulls out of the station.

I bade good bye to the last of our party, as they separated to take various routes back to America. I am the only one who is to return across Siberia and the Pacific ocean. I have sent a telegram to Mrs. Wilson, who is in Paris; and two weeks later, I am to send her a cablegram across the Pacific to San Diego.

I clambered into an ancient droshky and we clattered over the cobblestone pavements, odd mixture of the old and the new, as we sped for possession of the narrow streets with shrieking, clashing motor cars. A great crowd is gathered around this station for the departure of the Trans-Siberian express is quite an event even in so garish a city as Moscow. The station itself is a peculiar type of modern Russian architecture, with a few straight lines, but surmounted with ubiquitous strangely curved domes.

Coming into the train shed, I find my long, cosmopolitan train. There are no classes in Russia, as we are often reminded. And so they do not have first, second and third class cars. But they have something that corresponds to them. There are "soft" and "hard" cars, and then there are just cars. Having experimented to my full satisfaction with "hard" cars, I chose "soft" for this long journey. Now, when I speak of "hard" cars, I mean hard! One does not even recline on soft wood. But these "soft" cars I find are only relatively soft. However, each compartment has rather comfortable berths for one, two or four, or six, as have the "hard" cars. Made up as seats, these berths are curved in some relation to the hollow of the human back, a relationship which our Pullman manufacturers have yet to discover. Between each set of two compartments is a little wash room which can be entered from either side. The doors have a peculiar combination lock, such that when you

"Is good to go a-fishing on river, lake or sea. The flying gulls above you, and the waters just as free. Away from wheels of commerce and smoke of factory stack. A day of joy before you, and duty at your back."

"Is good to go a-fishing, when skies above are blue. Out of the long year's sheaf of days to plutter one or two. To have no thought of money, no urge for worldly fame. To be at heart a fisherman, and a fisherman by name."

Men see you from the distance, and this is all they say. There goes another fisherman. May luck be his today. And be you rich or be you poor, they have no wish to know. For all the world is friendly to the men who fishing go."

So let me be a fisherman. No other rank I'll seek. The care-free man upon the bay of whom the travelers speak. For there is envy in their eyes which kings may never know. And every crumb of "Good luck" that goes to men who fishing go."

Snook Jurors To Be Given Choice Of Six Verdicts

Indications Point To Dr. James H. Snook, Knowing Fate By Nightfall Thursday

BELIEVE SPEEDY VERDICT LIKELY

By JAMES I. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 13.—The curtain was descending today upon one of the most sordid murder trials ever staged in an American courtroom—the Snook case.

By noon tomorrow the fate of Dr. James H. Snook, former college professor who hammered and slashed Theora Hix, young co-ed beauty, to death on a lonely rifle range on the right of June 13 probably will be in the hands of the jury.

Closing statements of the lawyers to the jury were to begin today, with both sides holding their arguments to within three hours each.

Six Kinds of Verdicts.
The judge probably will instruct the jury they can return any one of six verdicts:

1. Guilty of first degree murder without any recommendation of mercy, carrying with it the penalty of death in the electric chair.
2. Guilty of first degree murder with mercy, carrying life imprisonment.
3. Guilty of second degree murder, which provides life imprisonment with hope of parole.
4. Guilty of manslaughter, which provides imprisonment of one to 20 years.
5. Acquittal on the grounds of insanity.
6. Out and out acquittal.

Few trials ever held anywhere in this country have even approached the Snook case in downright sordidness. It was no surprise that Mrs. Harry Cassidy, the only woman on the jury, frequently bowed her head in embarrassment during the testimony. It is doubtful if any trial in recent years was pitched in a lower moral tone than was the Snook case.

Hardly a day has passed in the last three weeks that testimony was not given that caused the ears of the normal minded to burn with shame. Attorneys interrogated witnesses on subjects that simply are not talked about in any society, and it is amazing that women and girls retained their seats and listened to such testimony. In fact, seats in the courtroom were at a premium and the trial played to a full house throughout.

Night Club Hostess Seriously Injured, Falls From Window

Young Night Club Entertainer Believed Fatally Injured In Fall

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—They'll have to get another hostess "somewhere in the Forties" tonight for Eva Davis is dying.

It's just another Broadway half-tone—only worth a paragraph or two. A girlish body clad in lacy lingerie falling through the dawn and a phoney name.

"Jumped or fell." That's the way the police always put it.

"Davis is only my cabaret name," gasped the girl to hospital internes. "My real name is Eva Goldstein of Philadelphia. My father lives at 1618 North Marshall Street. Take me there—please."

It happens so often that it might not be worth these few paragraphs only Eva fell from her room in the Claridge hotel at Forty-Third Street and Broadway, the very heart of the merry-go-round.

Accident Cases Are Reported To Police

Gus Santillano of 702 Oak street reported to the police Monday that he was going west on East Washington street at Croton avenue when his machine was in a collision with that bearing Pennsylvania license D 65-698 which was going north on Croton avenue. Some damage was done.

Urban L. Lackey of 716 North Mercer street reported that he was going east on West State street at Sankey street Monday, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 310-504, going in the same direction and to his rear, crashed into and damaged the rear of his machine.

WILLIAM ELLIS IS HELD FOR COURT

William Ellis proprietor of an East Washington street restaurant, arrested recently by the city police, was given a hearing before Alderman O. H. P. Green on Monday afternoon on the charge of violating the Snyder Act. He was held for the September term of court and gave bail in the sum of $1,500 for his appearance at that term of court.

New Fall Hats
$1.95 $3.95 $5.00

Just new, from New York. Hats carefully selected by our buyer last week. Be an individualist and from the great wealth of models select the lines and materials that flatter you most. The shallow-in front, long-in back hat is important.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

enter the door from one side, you automatically lock the door on the other side. There are no towels or soap. The water starts running a rich chocolate color but is soon modified to a delicate champagne hue. I am told that I shall find hot water in great vats along the way. One of the words which I first learned to use is that for hot water "gerechty." There is no drinking glass, but I have already decided that that is no deprivation. I shall have to depend on something else beside this water to quench my thirst. What it will be, I do not know.

Beside the train are many booths, at which provisions for the trip are being sold. Nuts, biscuits, hard-boiled eggs, whole cooked chickens, fruits suggest how one ought to be stocked up for such a trip. Peas cost ten cents each, bananas are even more expensive and oranges appear not at all. There are some Russian-grown plums and cherries, also tremendously expensive. But I am told that there will be no fruit of any kind whatsoever all the way across Siberia. So I am stocking up.

There are several people around me who can speak English. This is really the first opportunity for several weeks that I have had to talk untrainedly in English, except to our own party. And how good it seems to see somebody in civilized clothes! Here is one spot in Russia where one who dresses-up is not looked down upon. The Russians have been so anxious to disprove "all connections with "bourgeois" customs and costumes that they take pride in looking disreputable. The men resemble the ruffians in a Hollywood melodrama. I have found myself wondering—and then with a start recalling that I am in Russia. It has surely been galling to see people on street corners, sitting on the curbs, everywhere, reading, reading—and yet never to see a word in print that I can comprehend.

FINED FOR GAMBLING
George Chip, proprietor of a pool-room on South Mercer street, was given a hearing before Mayor William H. Gillespie on Monday afternoon on the charge of keeper of a disorderly place. Mr. Chip was represented by Atty. Alvah M. Schumaker and John Powers and entered a plea of guilty. He was assessed a fine of $15, which he paid. The charge was based in the alleged gambling permitted in his place of business for the ownership of baseball pool tickets.

Bugle Corps Will Practice Tonight

Members of the bugle and drum corps of the Legion of Honor of the New Castle Consistory, will hold a practice session at the Cathedral this evening at 8 o'clock.

All members of the corps are asked to be present, as plans are being made for a trip to Beaver Falls in the near future.

REPORT LOSS OF THREE POCKETBOOKS

Three persons, reported to the police on Saturday the loss of their pocketbooks in the crowds attending the opening of the Nelsner store. Mrs. H. H. Withmore of 409 Whippoo street, lost her pocketbook and $20; Felix Cole, 317 Neal street, his pocketbook and $10 and Howard Kilgus, R. D. 9, his pocketbook and $5.

Board Accepts Resignation Of Secretary Dempsey

Members of the local board of the American Red Cross met last night and accepted the resignation of P. J. Dempsey executive secretary of the chapter for the past year or so, who is leaving September 15 to assume another Red Cross position in Montana.

Several applications submitted for the position of secretary were announced but definite action of the board is pending until the special meeting called for August 21.

The chairman of the board was also authorized to write a letter of appreciation to Dempsey for his faithful services during the past 12 months.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—This is not intended as a knock; but with 9,700 varieties of cosmetics and various aids to beauty on sale in the New York shops, it would seem to a Gentleman of the Old School that some of 'em might put up a better front.

This does NOT mean you!

NOW DON'T RUSH TO BE REPORTERS!

Newspapermen, as a tribe, are supposed to be underpaid and improvident. As a matter of fact, there are underpaid and improvident toilers in all fields of endeavor. A majority of the lads in the average city room in the metropolis are well paid, hard-working, self-respecting family men—many of them with a beautifully developed "money sense". Half a dozen reporters of my acquaintance are financially above want for the remainder of their lives. And there was no "rich uncle" stuff about it. They earned and judiciously invested every penny they own. One of them has over $100,000 salted away—Wall street spoils. And then there's Herb Swoge to point to.

Fifteen years ago Herb's desk and mine were contiguous in a Park Row newspaper office. We were both reporters. Herb resigned some months ago, as "Executive Editor" of the paper, a title of his own creation; and

"Klutch" Holds False Teeth Tight

Klutch forms a comfort cushion; holds the plate so snug it can't rock, drop, chafe or "be played with."

whom we'll call McSwat, because that isn't his name—a protégé of the Big Boss, whose accounts recently came up $75,000 short. The word was passed out that Signor McSwat be given time to have the books audited again and in the meantime a levy was directed against some publicans and others who kicked in royally but not adequately. There still remained a shortage and so a race was "arranged" at one of the local tracks. It was "cocked" to a turn, all The Boys got in on it, among them McSwat, who not only made good the deficit, but found himself with $40,000 to boot.

COMMENTS ON WEST SIDE

Geo. W. Conway, Editor of the News

I would like to give some of my views as to the condition of things on the West Side of this city.

We are very glad that at last you "city dads" had decided to repair at least part of our street, but I am sorry it has been such a long drawn-out affair. To be fair with all concerned, I will say it has taken twice as long as it should to repair this street, "and the end is not yet."

We all know that the concrete has been laid plenty long enough to have had the curb stones placed and all work of all kinds done and the street washed and the street cars running. If it had been in any other part of town it would have all been over long ago. The fact that we are west of the Shenango river doesn't mean that we should not be recognized.

"Twenty four years ago this street was paved from the river to the city limits and was made ten feet wide from the end of the present double track to the city limits, and some property owners paid handsome prices to move their houses back from the street which was never done, and this spoils the looks of the street. This was all paid for promptly."

There has been at least nine tenths of this 24 years of real prosperity in this town, and now we can't pay for but one half of the streets repairs now. Let's live in hopes that some time in the future we will be able to pave from Front to Sankey streets, then the street will be closed another three months.

Bear in mind that on this side of the river almost all of the streets are unpaved and extremely rough which "adds fuel to the fire" in detouring. I do not know just who to blame but I will just ask some one to please tell me and others who wish to know. Why are we so short of funds? I see from time to time in the papers much about our prosperity. Why not some of you people who are on the inside and know, write the papers an article about our debts?

A comment on them, seriously might waken some one up to a sense of his duty so that some plan might be devised to get us on a "pay as you go basis."

I am not in favor of bonding city and county for something all the time. There seems to be someone or other just figuring all the time in the interest of selling bonds on this city and county.

In conclusion, I will ask that an up-to-date bridge be built across the Shenango river in place of the old one that may fall into the river at any time, as it has been condemned several years. I was in hopes that when one of our main thoroughfares was made over, this bridge from this city to Pittsburgh and also to Youngstown, that we would get a new bridge at once.

Well, we did get one but it was across the Neshannock, where when it is completed, possibly one car will cross while one hundred crosses the West side bridge.

By the way did you ever stop and take a look at the West Washington street bridge? It is an old timer. It is not near as wide as the street. The west bound traffic has to all travel on the car lane, while the people can walk four or five abreast on the sidewalks. Now, say we should be more interested in part-ways than sidewalks.

Build a bridge, pave our street and send a house builder into the city to help. Take us into the Union to Scotland lane. We have good roads in the interurban street car line and the building ground is not supposed to be either in or around the city.

Count on—we will treat you right. W. W. WALLS, 18 Round Street, New Castle Pa.

BANQUET OF THE BEES

There at Peter's place was the tiniest plate and cup and saucer the boy had ever seen. A spoon there was, too, and it—like all the other things—was fashioned of yellow wax. The waitress, marking Peter's glance of admiration, dared do a thing for which she would have been sternly reproved 'tis to be feared, if the Queen had caught her.

"Pretty, aren't they?" she whispered in Peter's ear. "I made them myself, last winter," and was gone before Peter could turn his head to answer. Because Royalty is very particular about the own and its subjects' manners perhaps it was just as well for the waitress that Peter couldn't reply.

The boy wondered what he was going to have to eat when a bee flew down to light upon his shoulder, and politely asked:

"Will you have some honey, sir? And perhaps, a drop of dew of roses?" Peter didn't quite know what "dew of roses" was, but of course he said he would like to have some. And in the twinkling of an eye the meal was spread before him—a square of honey on his plate, a drop of rose nectar in his wax cup.

"Hm! It doesn't look like a very hearty feast," thought Peter. "I wish there were some good old-fashioned bread and butter in Beville. I bet I get up from the table hungry." But, of course, Peter kept his thoughts to himself. It wouldn't have been at all polite to have mentioned his doubts to his hostess.

The hungry boy was so anxious to taste the food and drink that the very sight of the honey and rose dew made his mouth water. So he was pleased when the Queen turned to him and said:

"Try our delicacies, young friend, and tell us how you like them. We are especially proud of our honey, you know. Try as they will to discover it, our secret is still our own. Nobody can make honey while the sun shines quite like we do."

Peter agreed with the Queen, then made haste to obey her. Yum, yum!

Walks Into Station Asks To Be Arrested

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—A man claiming to be William Lamont, 45, of Williamsport, Pa., walked into police headquarters here Monday and suggested that they arrest him for sending threatening letters through the mail and blackmail.

He said he had demanded $3,000 from the president of the State bank at Omaha, Neb., under threat of bombing or pouring hot lead on a member of his intended victim's family. A similar sum was asked from the president of the Humboldt State bank, Chicago, and the Susquehanna Title & Trust company at Williamsport, Lamont said.

While detectives checked his story Lamont was held in $1,500 bail for a further hearing. No warrants are out for his arrest as far as known here.

Apparently there are any number of young women who are willing to be a darling to an old man's money.

ALCOHOL

Strange that somebody has not written a book to picture the tremendous influence alcohol has had on human history. Alcohol has mightily affected industry, art, and human behavior. Waldo Bowman expert authority on drugs, arouses the interest of his hearers by pointing out that the powder woman uses to take the shine off her nose, the rouge that redens her lips, her rayon underthings and her high heeled slippers result from manufacturing processes in which alcohol is used.

Most of the great painters and literary geniuses of the world were not acquainted with the potency of alcohol. Alcohol today is at the bottom of the most perplexing problem that has arisen in the American republic since the days of human slavery.

Some day somebody will write a book. It will be called "Alcohol and Civilization."

OUR TAX MONEY.

Surgeon General Cummings of the national public health service expresses the hope that leprosy may be eliminated from the United States by our growing knowledge of the use of Chaulmoogra oil. This dread disease is gradually being conquered. When one learns of constructive effort to improve the living conditions of people, to cure them of their diseases, make them more comfortable, one feels better about paying his federal taxes. Few things more important in our government than a public health service.

FLYING BUSINESS.

News dispatches casually record that attachment papers for an airplane are carried from one town to the next by another airplane. It is interesting to see how the novel use of flying machines gradually becomes the ordinary, daily, prosaic, business use. Little by little the airplane fits into life as the motor car did. No longer do we hear the term "pleasure cars" that used to be so common. Some day the airplane will be just another way for John and Mary to go to town Saturday afternoon.

DIET AND DISPOSITION.

For some reason bodily health and vigor and good disposition do not always go together. Some of the strongest, neatest persons have the meanest, most brutal tempers. Again, people diet and get their stomachs in wonderful shape—but being hungry most of the time, they acquire the most irritable manners. And again invalids, crippled persons, the lame, the halt and the blind often have the sweetest dispositions.

Morgan Men Cagy About Appointment

(International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 13.—J. P. Morgan, the New York banker, who has been mentioned as a possible mediator in the reparations dispute between the British and other allied delegates in The Hague conference, was in London this afternoon. While it was admitted at Mr. Morgan's home and office that he is here, it was stated that none of his business colleagues have any information about his plans in the immediate future.

Millions Die Of Kidney Disease; Thousands Have It Right Now And Never Suspect It.

The good and wise plan to always keep the kidneys healthy and free from poisonous matter that leads to kidney disease, dropsy and other serious disorders is to take a few doses of Thompson's Barosma every three months.

It is a harmless remedy put up in liquid form, is quickly assimilated and gets to the sick kidneys at once. If your kidneys are weak, inflamed or clogged up, Thompson's Barosma will put them in shape again. If they are not diseased, Thompson's Barosma will tone up your system anyway.

All drug stores sell Thompson's Barosma for $1 a bottle on money back plan if it fails to relieve backache, sideache, sharp shooting pains and kidney, liver or bladder disease. In conjunction with Barosma always take Golden Lax Tablets (25c and 50c) when constipation is present. For sale at all drug stores.

A Dollar that Buys More than the Average

The dollar you spend for fire insurance purchases far more than the average. Of course, it purchases indemnity from financial loss if misfortune overtakes you; but it provides so much more that it ranks as one of the most effective dollars you spend.

From the standpoint of indemnity alone, Stock Fire Insurance is one of the cheapest of present-day necessities. Its average cost has consistently declined practically every year for the last twenty—even during the period of war inflation.

Research and Engineering

But Stock Fire Insurance, as transacted by the 239 company members of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, offers much more than indemnity.

For good measure it provides an engineering and research service to make life and property safer—laboratories in which to test materials and devices. It teaches better building practices—provides arson detection and investigation—conducts general fire prevention activities—and sponsors many other voluntary measures designed to lower the fire waste and thereby reduce the cost of fire insurance.

Foundation of Business Credit

Stock Fire Insurance effectually safeguards the home, factory and store, and supplies an element of certainty to business.

The $150,000,000,000 which Stock Fire Insurance companies constantly have at risk in the protection of burnable property in this country is indispensable in the stabilization of our credit structure.

Man Confesses To Robbing Of Bakery

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—With four men already serving time in jail for robbery of the Ward Baking Company messengers, in which $14,501 was obtained, police Monday afternoon announced they had obtained confession from Joseph Maloney, a prisoner in Central police station, that he and his confederates did the robbery.

John Otis and Sylvester Mantz were found guilty of the robbery after standing trial when they repudiated alleged confessions. G. A. Schreiber and William R. Murphy were found guilty of conspiring to rob.

The question now confronted by police is, "how many people robbed the Ward Baking Company, in view of all the alleged confessions?"

The two messengers said only three men held them up.

John B. Sloan, also held here, was said by detectives to have been implicated with Maloney.

Despite the fact Otis and Mantz are serving terms of five to fifteen years for the holdup, officers said, information will be lodged charging the crime to Sloan and Maloney.

Were Under Duress
Otis and Mantz alleged when they were tried that the confession had been obtained through duress.

Maloney and Sloan, police said, had confessed to a series of holdups rivaling only those perpetrated by the notorious Flathead gang headed by Paul Jaworski. Their loot ran well over $100,000 in the past few years, officials said.

Among the charges that will be brought against the men are that they robbed the Rued Manufacturing Company payroll messengers and the Tech Food Products $10,000 holdup.

Henry Zaitch was held today for a hearing charged with aiding in the Rued robbery. Andrew L. Hufnagle was to be charged with aiding in the Tech Food Products holdup.

Lieutenant of Detectives Edward O'Rourke, although believing Sloan knows where much of the loot from various "jobs" is hidden, admitted he had been unable to make the prisoners reveal it.

Scout Camp News

The camp staff played true to form yesterday and after a few disastrous innings in which the Dan Boone Stockade champs scored 7 runs came back strong to win the baseball championship of the camp by a score of 8 to 7. Staff manager J. Hancher presented a lineup which included a galaxy of stars that apparently dazzled the scouts toward the finish of the game which was hard fought throughout.

The lineup of the teams follows: Camp Staff: Norton, p; Ober, c; Timblin, ss; Zieler, f; Hulmes, s; Lawther, b; Leslie, rf; Watson, cf; Stone, lf; Dan Boone's: Sleppy, McLaure, Allen, Grommes, Leitch, Gordon, Suci, Howard, Denny, Rambo.

An evening game of basketball was organized and refereed by Scouts Sandy Howard and Nat Book. This is a requirement for the merit badge in athletics for which J. D. Lawther is camp examiner. The game was won by the team composed of Lawther, Bernard Carlin, Bob Gwin, William Bush and Paul Mills. Score 14 to 1. Time of quarters 6 minutes.

Tests were passed by the following boys: merit badge first aid, Bill Olfitt, and Bill Grommes; merit badge swimming, Frank Baldwin, Bob Rodgers, Bob McCaslin, Heber Baldwin, Bob Emery, Bill Bovard; Dave Sleppy, 2nd class compass, knife and hatchet, Frank Elverson, 2nd class scouts pace; merit badge athletics, Sandy Howard and Nat Book; reading, Nat Book.

Evening color guards were John Suci, Tom Hawkins and James Denny. A Wayseeker scalp was awarded at colors to Scout Joe Frazer of St. Mary's troop No. 51.

Bob Rodgers equaled the camp high point record for this summer with a score of 255 points for today. Bud Gordon is the only other boy to have attained such a high score this season. Dave Sleppy too second honors today with 175 points.

Hut C. A. Martin, leader Bob Brown, took inspection honors today. Boys in the hut are Bill Fair, Louis Allen, Vic Wagner, John Young, Bill Lee and Harry Brown.

An unusually interesting and entertaining campfire program was held at 8:00 under the direction of Harry Zeigler.

Junior Red Cross life saving test will be given to a group of scouts on Wednesday afternoon by Red Cross Examiner Jack Hulme. Scout Dah Ryan is requested to appear in camp on Wednesday to take the test with the other boys.

Sugar Tariff Schedule Is Up Before Senate

Republican Members Of Senate Finance Committee Face Decision Today

SENATOR BORAH SUPPLIES DATA

Senate Itself Likely To Reject Any Increase In Sugar Duties

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON,
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—After giving tentative approval to the House rates on hides, leather and shoes, the Republican members of the Senate Finance committee today faced a decision on the highly controversial sugar schedule.

The Republican tariff-makers were in a dilemma as to whether rate they approve will be fought by a Democratic-Insurgent coalition in the Senate. There appeared a strong probability that the Republicans would vote a flat two-dollar rate as applied to Cuban imports. This will be disappointing, to say the least, to the Insurgents, who likely will support a bounty for sugar producers, and to the Democrats who seem to favor a reduction even in the present Cuban rate of $1.76 per hundred pounds.

Borah Gets Data
Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, predicting the rejection of any sugar rate above that in existing law, was obtained a mass of data from tariff experts, supporting a plan for paying a bounty to sugar producers while levying a tariff on sugar imports solely for revenue. He announced his proposed tariff would be "considerably less" than the present Cuban rate of $1.76. His plan, he added, would save the American consumers about $150,000,000 a year.

Regardless of what tariff the Republicans recommend, it appeared entirely likely that the Senate itself will reject any increase in the existing sugar duties. A preliminary poll of the Senators in Washington indicated that no two of them entirely agree on a rate.

Unless a material change of sentiment occurs before the Senate acts upon the bill itself, it seemed improbable that any proposal for a change would command the necessary majority vote. The ultimate rate then would be a compromise between the $1.76 in the present law and the $2.40 approved by the House.

Sundries Schedule
Before reaching the sugar schedule, the Republican tariff-makers must complete the "sundries" schedule. The high spot in this schedule was the 10 per cent ad valorem rate placed upon hides by the House, after the item had been carried on the free list for a century. The Senate Republicans approved this rate and a sliding scale of duties for leather articles, up to 20 per cent for upholstery, gloves, foot ball, basketball, soccer ball and medicine ball leather. The House rate of 30 per cent ad valorem on embossed and printed leathers was approved, too.

The most important change by the Senate Republicans in this schedule was to revise the paragraph containing the "basket clause," with a ten per cent ad valorem rate, on leather importations for shoes and footwear. This was changed so that an importer would be unable to make the higher specific duties by bringing in shoe leather under the "basket clause."

Pennsylvania Is Seventh In Liquor Seizures In Nation

Georgia Ranks First, Association Against Prohibition Amendment Reveals

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent of New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 13.—Pennsylvania ranks seventh of the 48 states in the average amount of illicit liquor seized and twenty-fourth of the states in the average number of pieces of distilling apparatus confiscated, per 10,000 population, each year in prohibition enforcement during the period of 1923 to 1928 inclusive, the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment announced today.

An average of 918 gallons of liquor and 8.9 pieces of distilling apparatus was seized per 10,000 residents in Pennsylvania each year during the period, according to the association's report.

Georgia ranks first of the country in the annual rate of liquor seizures, with an annual average seizure of 4,957 gallons per 10,000 residents each year of the 1923-1928 period, and Florida leads in the annual rate of still confiscations, with an average of 87.2 stills confiscated per 10,000 population each year of the period.

Seizures of stills and liquor have greatly increased since 1920, stills seized in 1920 numbering only 15,416 in the entire country as against 261,611 seized last year, and liquor seizures in 1920 amounting to only 153,735 gallons as compared with 32,474,234 gallons confiscated in 1928, according to the association's report.

Unidentified Man Removed From River

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—An unidentified man about fifty years old lay in the morgue today. He was taken from the Allegheny river and police said he had been dead several days.

AUTO STOLEN HERE MONDAY EVENING

Lawrence Conti, 608 Canyon street, reported that he had his machine parked on Sampson street between 8:45 and 10:30 p. m. It was stolen by some unknown person between those hours. The machine stolen was a Chrysler No. 58 Coach, 1926 model, Pennsylvania license 690-003 and is dark blue in color.

WASHABLE WALL PAPER IS FAVORED

Wall paper which is waterproof and sun-fast is gaining in popularity. It is not now confined to the kitchen and bathroom, but is used in many rooms. The walls of this dining alcove are covered with a waterproof paper, the base of which is a parchment paper upon which the design has been applied by a process that saturates the paper with the oils and pigments. The particular design shown here is in warm tones of beige and brown. The design was selected by Ellen D. Wagner, editor of The American Home Magazine.

Mail-Order Cures Are Under Attack

By LEO DOLAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Aug. 13.—"Save your postage stamps and see your doctor!" "Spend money foolishly on many other things . . . but discount by 100 per cent any medicine that might be engendered by reading the 'come-on' of the mail-order cure advertisers."

It is Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state health secretary, speaking. Dr. Appel has launched a vigorous attack against what he terms "a woefully misplaced trust in postage stamp pills," as exemplified by those crude souls who eagerly drink in the fabulous results promised by "mail-order cures."

Dr. Appel pointed out that a general ban is in effect against advertisements of a special character but, nevertheless, large advertising spaces are now occupied with "eloquent and appealing assertions" of the power of certain mail order remedies alleged to cure other maladies. "It is indeed quite surprising how many fairly intelligent people will be taken in by these glowing literary 'spreads.'" Dr. Appel continued, "and consequently send their hard-earned money to the quacks and unethical business men who thus gull the public."

"If one is sufficiently literate to read an advertisement, and in addition lives in a highly remote locality, there may be some excuse for him to become the prey of these conscienceless people. 'But it indeed is hard to understand why thousands of men and women, who pride themselves upon their intelligence and education, succumb to these high-powered statements.'"

Crawford Avenue Opened To Traffic

West Washington Street May Be Opened Several Blocks Tonight

City Engineer Frank Miller today stated that Crawford avenue has been resurfaced and opened to travel and efforts will be made to open West Washington street between Sankey and Smithfield streets tonight. Woods & Golder completed the Crawford avenue job and also repaved West Washington street. The Pennsylvania-Ohio Railway Company, according to Engineer Miller, repaired nicely the section between the Crawford avenue rails.

New Conflict On Manchurian Border Is Reported Today

Soviet And Chinese Forces Reported Clashed Again; Both Sides Suffer Losses

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Aug. 13.—Another clash between Chinese and Soviet troops was reported from Manchuria today. Both sides were said to have suffered casualties but advices gave no figures.

Word received from Manchuria today confirmed reports that two Chinese were killed and ten wounded when Soviet machine gun scouts crossed the Manchurian border and engaged in a brush with Chinese soldiers.

The situation seemed extremely critical here, because of the two salient of the Soviets into Chinese territory.

Two Pullman Cars Are Overturned

One Woman Slightly Hurt As Two Pullman Cars Are Upset Hitting Bad Rail

(International News Service)
PUEBLO, Colo., Aug. 13.—Two Pullman cars of a Denver-Kansas City Santa Fe passenger train were turned over 26 miles east of here today when a defective rail broke after a part of the train had passed over it.

One woman passenger was slightly injured, but she would not give her name to officials of the railroad company.

The two overturned Pullmans each carried 14 passengers. They were bruised, but their injuries were not considered serious.

A chair car, carrying 18 passengers, left the rails, but did not overturn. The train left Denver at 5 o'clock last night.

Spending Too Much?

Making an analysis of the expenditures of 241 cities, C. R. Rightor, chief accountant of the Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research, finds municipal debt climbing rapidly. Rightor says it's the public that is demanding continual improvements and officials in the majority of cities are endeavoring to solve the problem of expansion without incurring top-heavy debt.

Business Women Plan Gathering

B. And P. W. Clubs To Assemble At Conneaut Lake Park Over Week End

The largest attendance in history at an event of this kind is expected to feature next week-end's outing of all the Business and Professional Women's clubs in Northern and Western Pennsylvania, to be held at Conneaut Lake Park. Members of the Erie and Greenfield clubs are in charge of program and arrangements.

The first meeting of the gathering will take place at 7 o'clock, Saturday evening, August 17th, when a dinner will be held in Hotel Conneaut where headquarters are to be maintained. The Meadville club is in charge of the program for the dinner with Helen Remler and Genevieve Falvo as co-chairmen.

Harriet P. Sterling is general chairman of arrangements for the Meadville club's participation and is assisted by Margaret Sherwood, Dorothy Urick, Freda Reimund and Elizabeth Remler as other original chairmen. Miss Sherwood has charge of reservations and Miss Anna Hanaway is chairman of transportation. Misses Remler and Falvo have planned a most interesting program to take place after the dinner in Hotel Conneaut. Immediately after the last course, the B. P. W. crowd will walk to the boat dock and board the steamer "Pennsylvania" for a ride around the lake, the program to be given on board enroute. An orchestra will play. The return to the park will be made about 11 o'clock.

Josephine Carter, president of the Greenville club, and her co-workers have planned a unique program incident to breakfast in Hotel Conneaut, Sunday morning. Katherine Rock is chairman of the program committee. Mary Dickson, chairman of the public relations committee, has charge of reservations; and Minnie Gachman is chairman of the transportation committee. This program will consist largely of musical numbers. Final plans to attend the week-end outing at Conneaut Lake Park will be made by the Greenville club at a picnic, Thursday evening of this week. Short after-dinner talks will make up the Sunday noon program, according to Mrs. Helen Schluraff, chairman of arrangements for the Erie B. P. W. club. Mrs. Schluraff, who is national corresponding secretary, will be one of the speakers and Miss Julia Bmg of the Emmersmill Paper company Erie, will be another. Miss Emig, Mrs. William H. Price and Miss Laverne Chellis compose Mrs. Schluraff's committee. Miss Chellis, incidentally, is state transportation chairman.

Would-Be-Lover Writes Letters To Helen Wills

Young Man Claiming To Be In Love With Helen Gets Nasty With Her Father

(International News Service). BEEKLEY, Cal., Aug. 13.—Police Monday were hunting the author of a number of threatening letters to Helen Wills, tennis queen. His activities resulted in a personal visit to her home and a short lived "row". Letters threatening her life have been arriving daily from Chicago at the home of the star's father, Dr. C. A. Wills. Miss Wills is in the east defending her titles.

The unidentified lover and alleged letter writer, styling himself John Bowden, called in person at the family home.

"Bowden" demanded peremptorily to see Miss Wills.

When Dr. Wills insisted his daughter was not at home the stranger became abusive.

Dr. Wills called police but "Bowden" fled before they arrived.

Police, investigating, found that Bowden has checked out of a San Francisco hotel last Saturday.

Gaston Post Will Meet This Evening

Members of the Perry S. Gaston post, American Legion, will hold their first meeting on their new meeting night in the Legion Home building this evening.

This was the last meeting of the post prior to the state convention at Scranton and much business of importance will be transacted at this time.

It is expected that the new meeting night will meet with favor among the members.

Girl Hurlled From Machine Is Hurt, Taken To Hospital

Girl Tells Pittsburgh Police Of Riding With Two Men, Lost Consciousness

(International News Service). PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—Believed to have been thrown, or to have jumped, out of a moving machine, on the Frankstown road, Miss Catherine Forney, 22, of Everett, Pa., was in a serious condition in Pittsburgh hospital Monday.

An unidentified motorist, brought the girl to the hospital and told attaches of finding her beside the road. He left before giving his name. County Detectives Thomas Galt and David Drezler arrived at the hospital shortly after the motorist left.

Miss Forney said she had accepted a ride in an automobile with two men, according to the detectives. One of the men bought her a beverage, the girl said, and after that she lost consciousness. She was unable to tell how she became injured, or to verify the story of the man who brought her to the hospital.

Officer Berated By Woman While Making Arrest

Would Be Benefactress Is Placed Under Arrest In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—The sight of a policeman belaboring the head of a man he was trying to arrest and hammering him with a mace was too much for the softer instincts of Mrs. Bessie Atkins, 38.
Seizing the officer's arm, the woman berated him for "cruelty" and shortly she was lodged in Northside station charged with interfering with process of the law.

Max Bertram, 44, the man who was being arrested, was taken to jail on charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. He was to face a hearing at the same time as his would-be benefactress today.

BESSEMER

The funeral services of the late Frank H. Evans of Toledo, O., who died on Friday morning were conducted from the home of his sister Mrs. E. E. McCutcheon on Monday at 2 p. m. Rev. W. J. Engle gave a very interesting discourse. Members of the choir rendered suitable music.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young and three children of East Palestine and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ward of Bessemer spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Axel Swanson.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Emery and Mr. and Mrs. John Carr spent Sunday at Lake Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hoffman and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Young spent the week end at Cook's Forest. Merle Groce spent the week end with his brother and family Mr. and Mrs. Robert Groce at Emmenton.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Kaple and daughter Marie spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Davis and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Emery are spending a few days with relatives at Wooster, O.
Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ford spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Ford at Struthers.
Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Johnson attended the funeral of C. T. Agnew of Youngstown, O. on Saturday.
Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Barger and daughter Beatrice left on Friday for Cincinnati where they were called by the illness of the latter's grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Frankland of Pittsburgh spent Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Marshall and family who have been spending the summer at Wampum spent Monday evening in town.

Oliver Engle who has spent the last three weeks at the home of his parents has returned to Detroit.

Girl Is Knocked Down By Bicycle
James Lutton, 525 East Reynolds street, reported to the police that he was riding his bicycle on East Washington street near Apple Way, three small girls were walking across the street. One of them started to run across the street while the other two stopped. Then another started across and she was struck by his bicycle. She was knocked to the ground but on getting up stated that she was not injured.

Graham Completes University Work

R. X. Graham, instructor in journalism at Westminster college, has completed the summer school term at the University of Wisconsin. He is spending two weeks with friends in Cleveland, Ohio, and will then return to the college town.

conducted a daily column and was also chief editorial writer for the college paper. His editorials were copied and were commented upon by a number of city dailies in the region.

College Lads Wield Pick And Shovel

NEW WILMINGTON, Aug. 13.—Halls of Learning take care of their own, even down so far as ditch-digging, may be the inference drawn from a survey of the academic standing of the crew of 13 laborers now employed on the Westminster college campus improvement project here.
Five of these laborers are college graduates, four are students in college now, and the remaining four are high school graduates expecting to enter institutions of higher learning in the fall.

None of the five graduates, however, expect to retain their present standing as laborers for two will attend graduate schools, one will take up a position as a chemist, one will engage in college instruction work, and another will try to make a mark in the newspaper world.

As a result of the work accomplished by the Borough department of streets, there remains only one public thoroughfare in the college town that is not improved by ash, stone or pavement. Work this summer has concentrated on putting limestone over the hitherto unimproved streets.

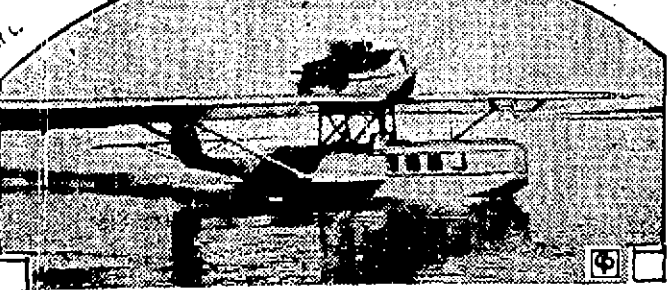

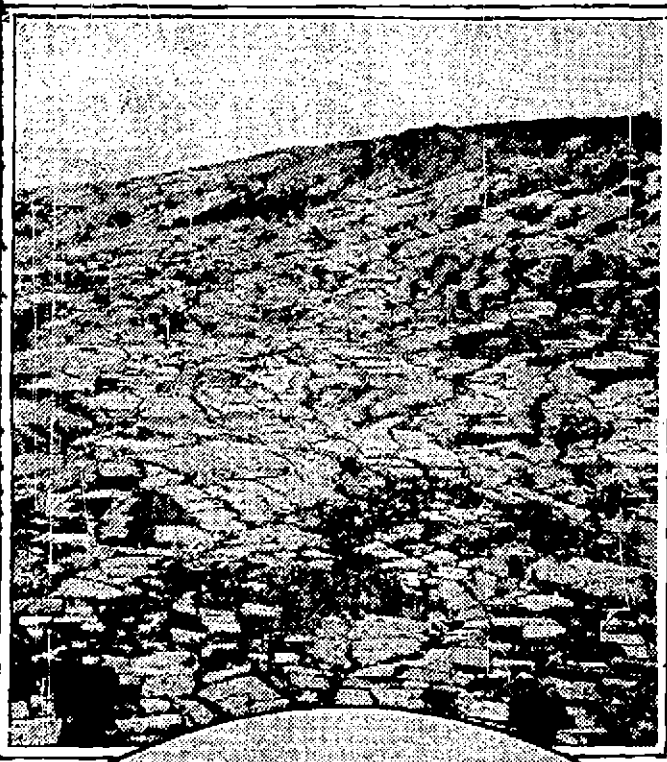

Thomas Mansell spent the week end in Pittsburgh, visiting at the home of Robert Ferguson.
Dr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Russell have returned to the college town after spending an extended vacation period in Vermont.

Dr. Elizabeth McLaughry is again at her office here after returning from a vacation tour of Alaska.

CUTS DOWN TREE; INJURES LEG
J. A. Cummings of near Mt. Jackson met with a very painful accident Monday evening.
While he was cutting down a tree on his farm, it unexpectedly fell toward him, injuring his leg severely. A physician was called and dressed injuries. It was found that no bones were broken but since his leg was badly bruised, he will be unable to attend his work for some time.

News Of The World As Told In Pictures

AIR STRUGGLE RAGES IN PANAMA

At the cross-roads of the world's trade, the Panama Canal Zone, where ships enter the canal from 14 directions, one may witness the beginning of a mighty struggle to capture South America's air franchises. The pioneer system, of which Colonel Lindbergh is technical advisor, first intended to make but two trips a month, between Florida and Panama, but it soon became necessary to put into operation a three-a-week schedule. Aviation developers find Panama a fertile field. Top, an air view of Panama; below, one of the hydroplanes in use there at present.

ENGLISH TURN OUT THEIR FIRST TALKING MOVIES

Her Charges Stir

Statements of Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, above, in newspaper articles that speeches she made during the last campaign were edited by James Francis Burke, below, of Pittsburgh, general counsel of the Republican national committee, have created such a stir that a senatorial probe may follow. Chief controversy has been over a Springfield, O., speech, interpreted as bringing up a religious issue.

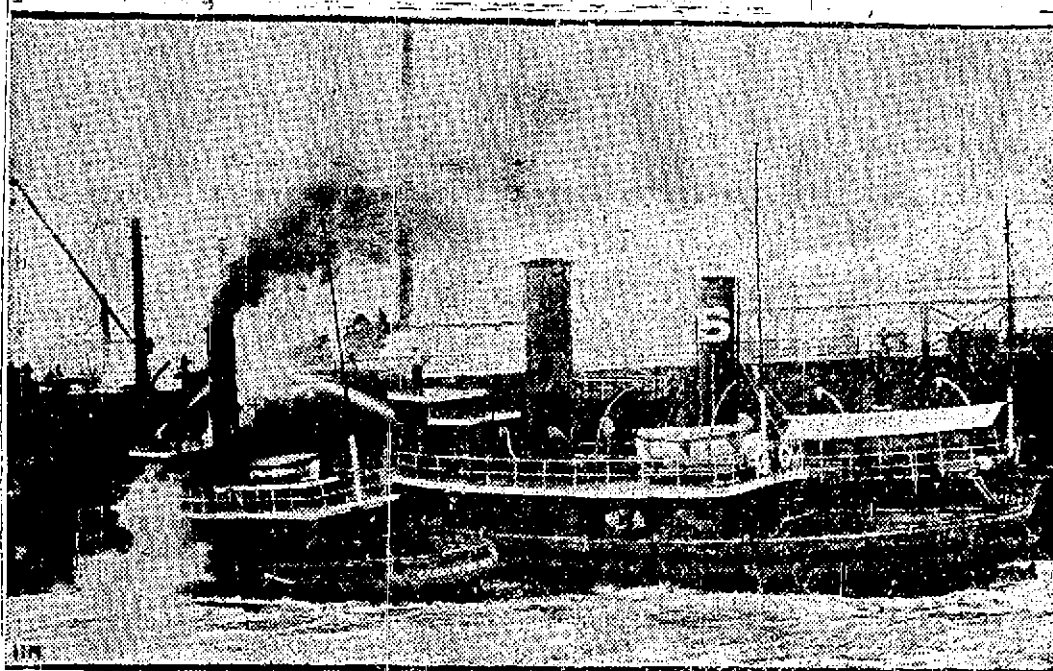

RUSSIAN NOBLEWOMAN IS TEACHING

Baroness Vera Lortsch

Baroness Vera Lortsch was born in Libau, Russia. During the World war she was interned in Germany, where she was traveling when war broke out. She had studied art in St. Petersburg, Munich and Paris. After the war she worked at various things—bookbinding and furniture making, and received a state diploma in cabinet making, the first woman in Germany, the second in the world, to get it. She was appointed to a position in the state academy of arts and crafts in Munich, and after seven years came to California on a visit. She became a teacher in the California School of Arts and Crafts in Oakland, and hopes to soon become a citizen of the United States.

Oil Tanker Explosion Takes Death Toll

One man was killed, eleven seriously injured and a general panic precipitated when the Standard Oil tanker, William E. Rockefeller, blew up at her dock in Bayonne, N. J. The terrific force of the explosion twisted the steel plates of the ship into a mass of wreckage and the fireboats experienced constant danger as they fought a stubborn blaze in her hull.

In World's Eye

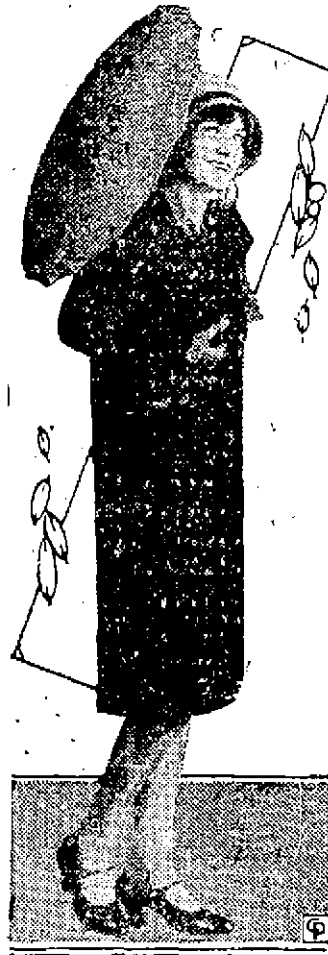

Philip Snowden, British chancellor of the exchequer, by his uncompromising stand against the Owen D. Young reparations settlement as applied to Great Britain, has solidified all parties in England on the issue.

Extra Caution at Blind Corners

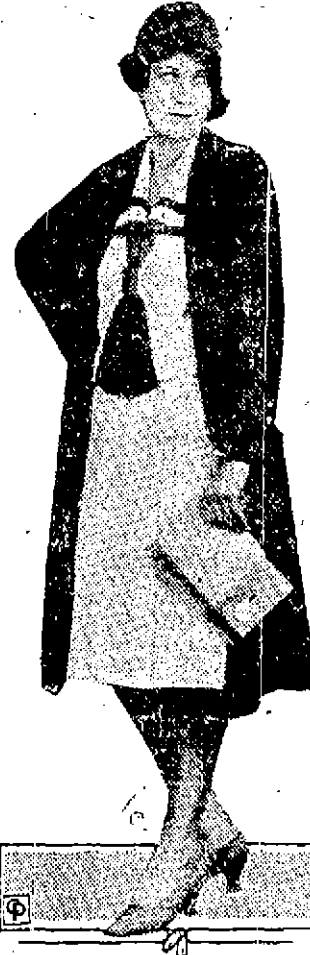

Railroad crossings are always dangerous. They are doubly so when there is a blind corner. There were some 2,500 grade crossing fatalities last year in which an automobile and a train collided. Eternal vigilance is the price of safety and this is especially true at railroad grade crossings. (Photo courtesy the National Safety Council.)

These nautical togs from Worth consist of a bright blue reefer accompanying a white flannel dress with sailor's tie and blouse. The blue twed bag is a new accessory note.

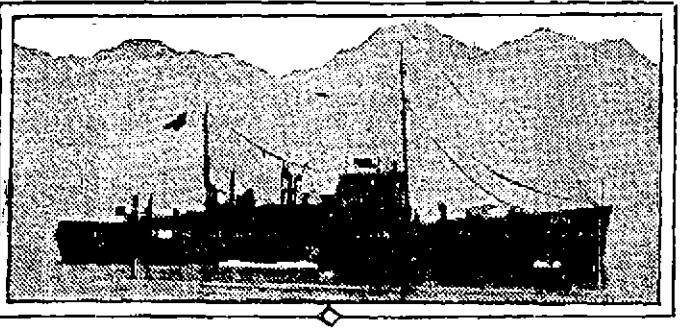

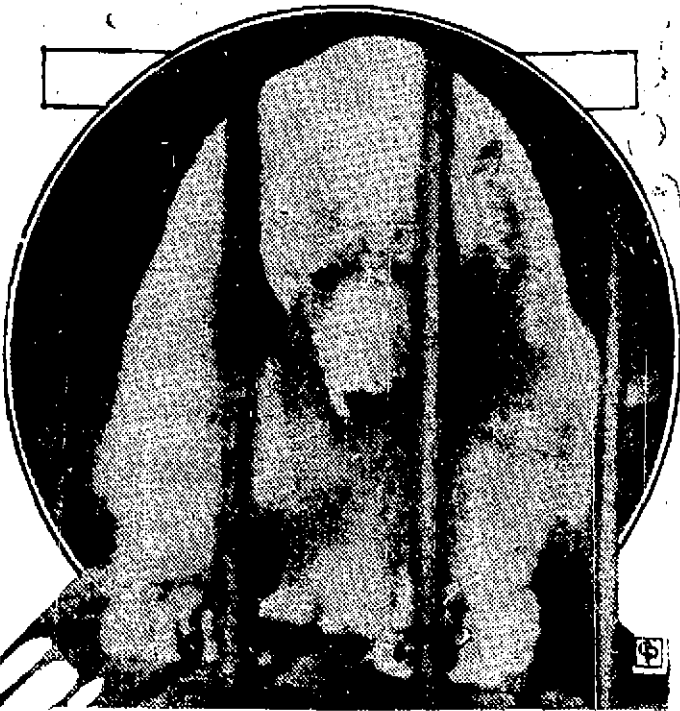

WOMEN AFTER ENDURANCE RECORD

Right, Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden; inset, Bobbie Trout.

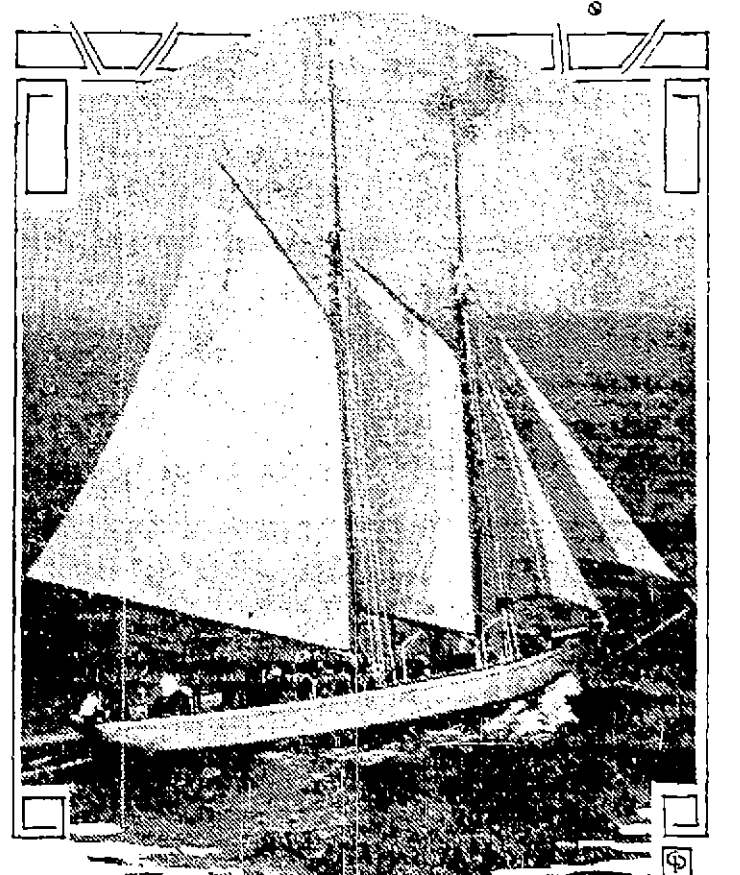

Two women flyers are planning to have a try at the endurance refueling record set by Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brien at St. Louis recently. They are Miss Bobbie Trout and Mrs. Louise McPhetridge Thaden. They will start from the Los Angeles airport early in September in a biplane. They must stay in the air the greater part of three weeks in order to beat their male competitors, who set the record of 420 hours 21 1/2 minutes.

MEET MISS BEAR OF DISCO BAY

Miss Marian P. (olar) Bear, the new cinema star, resides in the National zoo at Washington, D. C., since her capture by a coast guard party on a Disco bay ice floe. Although Miss Marian is very pleased with the movie taken at the time of her capture, zoo attaches say she prefers domesticity to the hectic life of a film favorite and has spurned all contracts. Below, the coast guard patrol boat which captured Marian, with glacier in the background.

BOAT CAN'T KEEP TRACK OF TITLES

This remarkable schooner, Diablo, which has won so many titles and records that her owners have lost track of them all, is preparing again to defend herself this summer. She hopes to clean up on all west coast contenders and then either enter the U. S. Tahiti or U. S. Hawaii race. In 1923 she set a record in the race to Hawaii that never has been equaled. She is owned by W. W. Peddar, of Los Angeles, is 52 feet long and has a 14-foot beam.

Explorer Returns To America, Tells Tale Of Two Missing Men

By DAVID P. SENTENER.
International News Service Staff
Correspondent
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Three went out and one came back.
Gustave Davidson, poet, author and explorer, today came back from the South Sea Isles with the tale of how his two scientific confederates W. B. Hargrave and Colfax, Wash., and P. E. Haskevitch, former resident of Paris, France, disappeared.
"They left the island of Raiuave in a native catamaran boat last April, bound for Tubuai and Paapeete," said Davidson. "Perhaps the storm got them or perhaps the sharks know their fate. But they were never sighted afterwards although I have searched every island in the Austral group."

Strange Tale.
Hargrave was a relative of Harriet Beecher Stowe and a trailmate of the late Jack London, the writer, in the Klondike, Davidson said.
Davidson who hurried home from his Polynesian studies when informed his aged father was very ill also brought back strange tales of the customs and habits of the island natives.
The expedition has been in these islands south of Hawaii since May 1928. Davidson lived and learned among the natives and was the first white man ever to establish residence upon Raiuave Island.

Handsome Men.
"The Polynesian men are the most handsome in the world, tall, strong and golden-skinned," he asserted. "The women, however are not very good-looking although they sing like nightingales. They do not believe in bobbed hair, wear bright red loin clothes but dress up on Sunday."
"The women are very gentle and love children but apparently are devoid of maternal instinct. It is the common practice for mothers to give their babies away to neighbors to be brought up."

"The people however are very morose."

al. They believe in one wife to each man and generally have a committee of elders of which the chief is president to judge those who break the unwritten law of the tribe.

They have prohibition problems in this group of islands which include Rimatara, Rurutu, Raiuave, Tubuai and Rapa according to Davidson.

Although the French authorities forbid fermented drinks the natives are fond of imbibing native beer made from coconut cream and fei (bananas). In fact, there is considerable bootlegging of this commodity.

Finds Souvenir Of School Days At Reynoldstown

William F. Davis Has "Honor Card" For Good Penmanship In Sixth Grade

William F. Davis of 1425 West Washington street possesses a unique souvenir from his school days at the old Reynoldstown building in the shape of an "Honor Card" for good penmanship which he found among some old papers at his home the other day.

Mr. Davis was a student in the sixth grade of the school when the card was issued. It bears the signature of M. Gantz, superintendent of schools and T. J. Rieinger, teacher of penmanship. It was issued on March 3, 1918. He prizes the certificate very highly.

EARTHQUAKE BRINGS BACK MEMORIES

The earthquake in this district Monday recalled to the memory of O. J. Koonce of this city a similar incident occurring here about four years ago.

He and Frank Kirker were seated at the checkboard table in the Y. M. C. A. on this occasion, engaged in a game of checkers. They were deeply concentrated, when a quake shook the chairs, the checkboard and table.

MRS. HARRIET HARRIS IS SEVERELY INJURED

Mrs. Harriet Harris of 415 Laurel Boulevard, is confined to her home with a fracture of the left leg below the hip bone which she sustained last Saturday when her foot caught in a rug in her home and caused her to fall. In spite of her advanced age Mrs. Harris is doing as well as could be expected and her eventual recovery from the injury anticipated.

Expert golfers, say some enthusiasts are denied greatness because of an inferiority complex. Others, we presume, because they drive and putt badly, but we never heard of one whose poor score was the result of a lamentable deficiency in mathematics.

Stomach Disorders First Revealed by Coated Tongue

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90% of all sickness starts with stomach and bowel trouble.

A coated tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders which lead to so many kinds of serious illness. It tells why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

Coating on the tongue is a sign that you need Tanlac—the medicine which has helped thousands who were physical wrecks from stomach and bowel troubles—who had "tried everything" in vain and about given up hope.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of herbs, barks and roots. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

Five State Guard Horses Killed In Harrisburg Fire

Harrisburg Fair Grounds Stables Burned To Ground Monday Night

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Aug. 13.—Charred and smoldering ruins were the sole remnants today of the proud stable of the governor's and headquarters' troop, 104th cavalry, Pennsylvania National Guard, following a fire that burned five horses to death and destroyed the stable at the Harrisburg fair grounds last night.

Prisoner Dies, Probe Started In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—Discerepancies in reports of the coroner's office and of the hospital on the death of Charles Pollock, 60, today caused a double investigation by the homicide squad and the coroner's deputies.

Pollock was arrested as a "drunk" and placed in jail, police reported the arrest was made Sunday evening. The hospital reported he was arrested Saturday.

Yesterday the man was taken to Allegheny General Hospital when he was noticed by the jail turnkey to be in a stupor. His illness was diagnosed as kidney trouble. He died last night.

Coroner W. J. McGregor performed a post mortem and reported today Pollock had died as result of a smashing blow which had fractured the top of his skull in several places.

Police intimated they did not know the man was not drunk until turnkey James Fay found him in a stupor yesterday.

Next Postmaster Matter Of Conjecture

County Clerks On Trip; Other Mercer News

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 13.—Who will be the next postmaster for Mercer following the expiration of the term of the present efficient chief, Postmaster Dunham Barton, is a question of such absorbing political interest that it constitutes a large share of the daily political gossip that one hears talked in the court house corridors which has always been a political forum.

The term of the present official expires in December, it is learned. As aspirants for the position there is a large field of candidates reported as pruning themselves preparatory to a leap into the political arena. If only half the number reported as candidates actually make the leap the contest will be of interest for the present census totals a dozen.

Much Gossip.

Political gossip to the effect that the appointment is sewed up is knowingly whispered by half a dozen groups of politicians. If they all are right the friends of Congressman T. C. Cochran certainly must be wrong for they say that the official has advanced no information at all on the subject and refuses to discuss it until after the examination held by the civil service commission which is now the customary procedure.

All candidates will have to qualify in this test if they are to be considered, the rules of that service read. During the absence of Congressman Cochran in Europe the political wire pulling has been checked but is certain to break out again on his return in September. With the appointment of a postmaster and the nomination and election of a full city ticket Mercer will be absorbed in heretofore many months to come.

TO LEAVE ON TRIP

The Misses Evelyn Mowrey, clerk in the treasurer's office; Grace Dodds and Geneva Albert of the recorder's office; Evelyn Patterson of the district attorney's office; Mary Emma McElheny of the county health office; and Kathryn Schodatz of the Reznor Manufacturing plant left today for a trip to Atlantic City, New York and other interesting points.

WILL GIVE PARTY

Miss Louise Gibson has issued invitations for a bridge party to be given at her home on North Pitt street Wednesday evening, August 14, at 8 o'clock.

"Beans" Reardon Is Improving

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—John "Beans" Reardon, National league umpire, was "progressing satisfactorily" today, recovering from an operation for appendicitis, it was reported at St. Francis hospital.

Reardon had been suffering for more than a month before he decided to undergo the operation. It was learned.

World Advertisers Gather In Berlin

Greatest Advertising Conclave In World's History Opens In Berlin Germany

Delegates From All Parts Of Universe Gather To Discuss International Views

By OTTO D. TOLISCHUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent
BERLIN, Aug. 13.—The greatest advertising conclave in the world's history opened here Monday.

Delegates, during the four days' sessions, will discuss not only the progress of the advertising science and its current problems, but will show that advertising is symbolic of human progress, and that advertising is the most powerful instrument in promoting world peace and other international movements for the happiness and prosperity of all peoples.

Just as America has forged to the front in the past decade in trade, finance and industry so is that aggressive new nation of the new world taking its place in the fore ranks of the advertising science. It was declared here by American delegates that all the delegations present that from the United States is the largest.

MAE MURRAY has charming skin.

"Lovely Skin Essential" say Movie Directors
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Leading movie directors say no girl is alluring unless she has exquisite skin. They agree that there is not a single instance of a girl's becoming a screen star without it. As Ralph Ince, director for F. B. O., says: "Every screen star I know has skin of exquisite smoothness. Without it no girl can be a success in the movies."

No actress knows better than does lovely Mae Murray how much a girl's power to stir hearts lies in her soft, smooth skin. Of the 451 important actresses in Hollywood, including all stars, 442 keep their skin charming and smooth with Lux Toilet Soap. It is not only the chosen toilet soap of 9 out of 10 screen stars—but it has been made the official soap for the dressing rooms of all the great film studios.

Two Flappers Who Escaped Jail Are Reported Captured

Two Young Girls Who Escaped Westmoreland County Jail Nabbed In Vandergrift

(International News Service)
VANDERGRIFT, Pa., Aug. 13.—Two flapper jailbirds who slid down an improvised rope of blankets to make their way from the Westmoreland county jail two months ago were captured here Monday in the Penn-Grant hotel.

The girls had escaped from the Westmoreland county jail after breaking out a skylight and making a sensational slide-for-life down their improvised rope, police said.

The girls were Violet Ewart, 21, and Catherine Nepper, 20, both of Central City, Pa. They were immediately returned to jail. Catherine Stein, 17, a third girl, who escaped, was not captured.

The tip which resulted in arrest of the girls came from a man, police said.

THERE IS NO OTHER ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR

THE only all-steel refrigerators in the world... these rugged General Electrics. Built of sheets of steel—as strong and long-lived as a safe. They cannot warp because steel cannot warp. Their doors will never sag. Their latch and hinges will never loosen—they are bolted right into the frame of steel.

These refrigerators actually maintain perfect temperature (always safely below the 50 degree danger point) on the least current.

Just as an all-steel cabinet is superior to other types, so is the hermetically sealed mechanism of the General Electric in a class of its own. It is dust-proof and worry-free. Operation is extremely quiet.

It never needs oiling. It has an accessible temperature control. As evidence of guaranteed reliability—there are now more than 300,000 users and not one has spent a single dollar for repairs! See the model, any of which can be purchased on conveniently spaced payments.

Auto Accidents Grow Numerous

An Increasing Number Is Being Reported To The Police Of City

Joseph Cornick of 485 Jefferson street, Sharon, Pa., reported over the week end that while driving north on South Jefferson street, this city, that at Center alley, Pauline Kicos, aged 6, of 1311 South Jefferson street, ran from the west to the east side of Jefferson street and was hit and knocked down by his machine. She was picked up and taken to the New Castle hospital. Her injuries are not believed to be of a serious character. Teresa Travers reported that her machine was parked across the street from her home on West State street, when the machine of Paul O. Stroutman of Shippensburg, Pa., going west on State street, skidded into and damaged her machine.

John Jones, Jr., 504 Bell avenue, reported Monday night that he was driving south on Greenwood avenue a short distance north of West Washington street, when a boy named Young, about eight years of age and residing on West Park Way, jumped off the west sidewalk of Greenwood avenue into the right hand side of his machine and was knocked to the ground. The boy got up and ran away and Mr. Jones chased and caught the boy. His mother was interviewed and said a physician was not necessary. The boy was apparently uninjured.

Damages Machine.
Mrs. Margaret Shanafelt of 405 West Madison avenue, reported Monday that she was enroute south on South Mill street near Taylor street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license B 67-347, pulled out from the curb without warning and hit and damaged her machine.

Mrs. J. F. Kurtz of 1202 Highland avenue, reported that she was driving north on South Mill street near the Johnson Bronze Works, when a machine bearing Pennsylvania license D 45-810 going in the same direction, passed on her left side at a high rate of speed as she signalled that she was about to drive into the Bronze works, sideswiped and damaged her car.

E. S. Thellman reported that he was enroute north on North Mill street and had stopped for North street traffic green light, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 578-272 going east on North street hit his machine, causing damage to both.

Albert Dipalmo of 108 South Beaver street reported that he was driving the machine of Thomas Mello of West Grant street, in front of 906 South Mill street and was in the act of getting out of the machine, when that of George Pittrell of Ellwood City, hit and damaged his machine. Pittrell did not stop and Dipalmo gave chase and caught him. Both machines were badly damaged.

N. J. Neader of 704 Wilmington avenue, reported that he was enroute north on South Jefferson street at South street, when a woman named Shaffer walked out in the street in front of his machine and was hit and knocked down. Mr. Neader took her to a physician, who stated that she had no serious injuries.

Cars Collide.
Tony Ritchie of 1007 Rose avenue, reported that he was going south on Beaver street at West Washington street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license U 40-009 going north on Beaver street and turning west on Washington street, collided with his car, causing damage to both.

Leslie Ashton of 106 South Ray street, was driving the machine of Ralph Cooper, 510 Court street, east on Court street at Ray street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 170-757 going north on Ray street collided with his machine causing damage to both. A Rick McJunkin Dairy company truck parked near the intersection obscured vision of the drivers of the two machines and made it impossible for them to see each other until their machines were together.

S. E. Smith of 126 North street reported that he was going south on North Jefferson street at Grant street, when a machine bearing Pennsylvania license 993-561, which was enroute in the same direction and made a turn to go west on Grant street.

Walter Cover, 428 County Line street, reported he was driving the car of John Essinger, 506 County line street, when the car of Richard Cramer going east on North street, collided with the machine he was driving. Some damage was done.

Both Cars Hurt.
Tip Richards of 1102 Agnew street, reported that he was enroute west on East Washington street as the car of George Hill of Morehead avenue, South New Castle Boro was going east near Ray street, when the machines were in a collision. Both were somewhat damaged.

G. H. Long of Grove City, R. D. No. 4, reported that he was enroute north on Jefferson street at Grant street, when his machine was in a collision with the car bearing Pennsylvania license 993-561, which was enroute in the same direction and made a turn to go west on Grant street.

Members of the New Castle board of school directors will convene at the administration building, East street, for the regular August business session on Thursday, evening, August 15 at 7:30 p. m., eastern standard time. Important matters are to be considered at this meeting.

Pantages Arrested

Alexander T. Pantages, multi-millionaire Pacific coast vaudeville theater magnate, has been arrested on charges preferred by Miss Eunice Pringle, 17, University of Southern California co-ed and dancer. She declares he attacked her when she called at his office to secure booking of her dancing act. Pantages brands the charges "blackmail."

Private Parleys At The Hague In Vogue At Present

Make Desperate Effort To Break
Deadlock That Now
Exists

(International News Service)
THE HAGUE, Aug. 13.—Private conferences among the British and Allied delegates attending the Hague conference were in progress today in an effort to break the deadlock precipitated by England's demand for revision of the Young plan for reparation payments.

It is understood that a scheme was considered for increasing Great Britain's share of German reparation annuities by reducing the shares of such smaller nations as Roumania, Jugoslavia, Greece and Portugal.
In return for this sacrifice the big powers would then reduce their war debt claims upon the smaller nations.
It was reported that Louis Lochar, of the French delegation, will have proposals of a compromise nature to make when the financial commission meets again tomorrow.

Steps From Train Is Fatally Hurt
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, August 13.—Knut Hassell, 67, of Minneapolis, was dead today because of his mistake in stepping from a moving train in the yards of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad here.
Thinking the train was in the station, the man stepped from the car and was thrown along the tracks. He died last night in Mercy Hospital. He was en route to Norway for a visit when the accident occurred.

Woman Swallows Poison, Mistake
Suffering Severe Headache, Woman Reaches For Wrong Bottle Of Medicine
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—Dazed by effects of headache tablets, Mrs. Anna Kelley, 36, of Wilkensburg, took a large quantity of poison, her husband, B. H. Kelley, told police today.
The woman was found unconscious by her daughter, Dorothy, 13, and her son, Clyde, 10, and she was rushed to Columbia Hospital where information on her condition was lacking.
An attack of headache had been bothering Mrs. Kelley, her husband said, and she took eight tablets to relieve the pain. Dazed, she took poison by mistake, he believed. She was not able to remember having taken it, he said.

Evangelist Opens Revival Tonight
Evangelist R. A. Buzza of the Erie conference, Methodist Episcopal church, opens a series of gospel meetings tonight at the Gospel Center at 8 o'clock. The Center is located two blocks from East Washington street on South Mercer.
Special music has also been arranged for the evening.
Use of the word petrol for gasoline has not made much progress in this country, one reason probably being that when he thinks of petrol for his wagon, that kind of name conjures up visions of another patrol that has to do with wagon.

Playground Commission Plans Novel Show For Grounds Here

Successful Doll Show Staged Yesterday At North Side Playgrounds

Field Meet For Three Playgrounds On Wednesday At 1:30 At Lincoln Grounds

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 13.—In an effort to promote a competitive feeling between the three playgrounds in use here, the ground commission has organized a series of doll shows, the first of which took place yesterday at the North Side playground, with 33 dolls entered. They were all shapes and sizes, presenting a festive appearance, with their young mothers casting an anxious eye on the judges for the outcome of the show. The dolls were judged in five classes. Mrs. Helen Wilson, head of the Playground commission, announces the prize winners as follows: For the biggest doll, Jean Gordon; for the prettiest doll, Delight Gordon; second prettiest doll, Maxine Miller; cleverest, costume doll, a darkey, Norma Jean Howell and for the nicest baby doll, Helen McKee.

Wednesday at 1:30 there will be a field meet between the North Side, Shelby and Lincoln playgrounds, at the Lincoln field. The group winning the most points in the meet will be adjudged Champions of the Day.

There will be another doll show Thursday afternoon at the Shelby playgrounds, and the dolls will be judged under the above-mentioned classes, for awarding prizes. Members of the Playground commission will be the judges.

The success of Ellwood City's three playgrounds is gratifying to those in charge, and takes a great deal of responsibility off the busy shoulders of the mothers, with supervised recreation for the thousands of children here. The only regrettable actor in the civic plans for the city's young is that there is nothing for the teen-age girl and boy to do, outside of two weeks at a Sunday school camp, which although commendable, is not of sufficient length to satisfy their desire for action, all summer.

The Story Of The World War
86—Mackensen And Falkenhayn Invade Rumania

IN SEPTEMBER, 1916, WHILE RUMANIAN ARMIES WERE INVADING TRANSYLVANIA, GENERAL MACKENSEN, WITH AN ARMY OF GERMANS, BULGARS AND TURKS, STRUCK AT RUMANIA FROM THE SOUTH. AT THE SAME TIME, GENERAL FALKENHAYN, WITH THE NEWLY-CREATED GERMAN 9TH ARMY, WAS RACING TO HEAD OFF THE RUMANIANS IN THE NORTH.

SEPTEMBER 26, FALKENHAYN FELL UPON THE RUMANIANS AT HERMANSTADT, IN TRANSYLVANIA, TO WHICH THEY HAD ADVANCED. IN A FIERCE TWO-DAY BATTLE THE RUMANIAN ARMIES WERE ROUTED WITH GREAT SLAUGHTER AND DRIVEN BACK TO THE MOUNTAINS, THE GERMANS CAPTURING 3,000 PRISONERS AND ALL THE RUMANIAN ARTILLERY.

SIX DAYS BEFORE THE BATTLE OF HERMANSTADT AN AUSTRO-GERMAN FORCE HAD TAKEN VULCAN PASS. THROUGH THIS OPENING FALKENHAYN'S TROOPS NOW Poured DOWN INTO THE PLAINS, THREATENING TO CUT THE COMMUNICATIONS OF THE RUMANIAN ARMIES AND FORCING THEM TO FALL BACK TO COVER BUCHAREST, THE RUMANIAN CAPITAL.

AT THE END OF OCTOBER, MACKENSEN, HAVING CONQUERED THE DOBRUDJA AS FAR NORTH AS CONSTANZA, WHEELED ABOUT AND, THROWING HIS ARMY ACROSS THE DANUBE AT SISTOVA, THROST AT BUCHAREST FROM THE SOUTH. THE RUMANIANS WERE NOW CAUGHT BETWEEN TWO FIRES.

KOSKY AND DUGAN BOX 10 FAST ROUNDS

Officials Give Draw Decision

Kosky Entitled To Decision
By Taking Six Of 10 Rounds

SCARNEY, DE NERI,
MIDWAY, FARROW WIN

By ED FRITZ

Sailor Pay Kosky, the Chicago southpaw and Jackie Dugan, Louisville, battled 10 fast rounds last night at Jolly Bowl and though the officials called the Evening's Evening a draw the writer believes Kosky was clearly entitled to the decision.

The sailor took the first five rounds and the tenth. Dugan captured the seventh, eighth and ninth and the sixth was even. Kosky landed the stiffer punches, carried the fight most of the time and his southpaw stance was a puzzle Dugan had difficulty solving.

There was nothing but Kosky to the first two rounds as Dugan let Kosky carry the fight to him. Five and again Jackie's rights flew by Kosky's head or curved around his body. In the third Pay sent Jackie reeling off balance from a left to the stomach.

Battis Cause Wounds
Dugan's right eye was opened by a but in the third and in the fourth they slugged as they stood toe to toe and at close quarters whaled to the body. Kosky invariably forced Dugan to back up when they punched to the body in the fourth.

They exchanged punches to the head in the fifth and despite Kosky's heavy bombardment to the body kept fighting hard. They stood toe to toe again and sent uppercuts to head and jolts to the stomach. Kosky's right eye was butted open at the bell.

During intermission some of the blood used to stop the bleeding trickled into Kosky's eyes when it was being applied and when the sixth started he put a left to the chin and Dugan came back by driving the sailor to the ropes.

Dugan Picks Up
While Kosky was bent backward Dugan slammed him viciously and brought a rousing cheer from his supporters. They clinched and dived with left and right during the rest of the round during which their eyes bled. The round was even.

Jackie made his first good showing in the round and in the seventh carried the fight to Kosky. Jackie threw a lot of gloves and they landed. It was his round by a fat margin. They slugged each other around the ring in the eighth and Jackie took the session.

The Louisville lad had an edge in the round due to his aggressiveness but his punches lacked steam and apparently Kosky was resting for the final spurt in the tenth and such turned out to be. The sailor out-fought Dugan in the tenth.

Kosky Takes Tenth
He forced the fighting and Jackie only delivered three long range rights while Kosky kept peppering away. Near the finish of the fight they stood toe to toe and slugged and were fighting hard at the bell. The bout was called a draw.

Harold Scarney, 178, Youngstown, defeated Frank Florian, 178, Cleveland in the six round heavyweight fight which was decidedly fast. The heavyweights and which teamed with action. Florian had a good jaw as Harold plunked him several times with good rights.

Scarney shook Florian up in the first but Florian, tough and experienced recuperated fast. Florian jabbed Scarney several times in the second but Florian took Harold's cooked right as a threat to his left and drop he got it just before the bell.

They fought a left handed duel in the third and about the middle of the round Scarney popped Florian with right uppercuts at close quarters. They shook Florian up. He let him recuperate then nailed Florian with a right on the chin.

Stand and Slug
Florian sent a right to Scarney's head and Scarney came back with right and left to Florian's head. Scarney's punching carried more steam than Florian's but whenever Scarney essayed to slug he found the Cleveland willing to accommodate him.

Scarney rushed as the fourth opened and slugged Florian with right and left. The Cleveland heavyweight grabbed and when they were parted swab up toe to toe and the milling between the big boys was terrific.

They left their punches fly to the head and the body. Florian put a healthy right on Scarney's jaw. Scarney threw a right to Florian's chin but it was not hard enough to drop Florian. When Florian started (Continued On Next Page)

Faculty Manager Ralph E. Gardner, rushed into the office on Monday afternoon, all out of breath, and made the startling announcement that on Thursday night of this week, the New Castle High School football players would have their initial meeting of the year.

The gathering for football purposes will be held in room 17 at the Senior High building, and at the time is 7 o'clock Daylight Savings Time, and the boys are asked to be prompt in reporting at the time designated. Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh is very particular as to time, and when he says seven o'clock, he doesn't mean anything else. Just a word to the wise, etc.

It looks as if the football season was drawing near. Gardner is planning on the opening of football camp for Monday, August 26th. The first rehearsal will be held at 10:30 o'clock in the morning, and the afternoon session about 2:30 o'clock.

Gardner Eloquent
Gardner waxed eloquent as he unfolded an careful regarding the coming grid campaign. The outlook is not so rosy as the popular faculty over. There is no kidding anyone about the situation this year. New Castle High is plainly up against it for material.

The locals are even figuring on losing several games, not that they are not going to try and win, nothing like that, but the boys figure that with the honest-to-goodness schedule that awaits them, and with the material at hand that just naturally some one of those good teams coming here, will knock the thing off the cake.

Bridenbaugh Worried
Anyone that Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh starts figuring on losing you can lay the honest dollar that he is worried and worried aplenty. It is not characteristic of the good looking coach to allow gray hairs to form over worrying, and no foolin' the season of 1929 does not look so hot to Phil.

So at last folks Gardner has emerged from his shell. The old boy has been living the life of a hermit this summer, at the football camp at Muddy Creek Falls, but yesterday he scurried forth to inform the followers of the scholastic grid pastime in New Castle's domain that New Castle High would have a coming out party next month, and just what kind of a party it would be, is another matter entirely.

Gardner said that perhaps 35 or slightly more candidates would be taken to camp. The exact number will depend on the material.

The coaching staff that will look after the boys while they are scurrying in the hinterland will consist of the following: Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh, assistant coaches William Klee, and George "Gig" Thomas. Faculty Manager Gardner, Student Manager Russell Forney, and assistant managers Bill Broadbent, Bill Long and David Brewster. It will be the job of the aforementioned to look after the wants and needs of the youngsters while they go through their daily routine of camp life.

If you think that the boys have a picnic out at camp with two grinding sessions each day, just take a trek out there some fine morning or afternoon, and you will be convinced in a hurry that the life of the young football player could be a lot easier.

In the final half of August the sun is generally rather fervid, and Old Sol shows no partiality. He shines down on all alike, and it is hot out there, yes it is, and plenty. But football practice is football practice in any climate, and so all goes.

For the rejuvenated Indians have taken eleven of the sixteen games played between the two clubs this season and judging from latest reports seem in no humor to stop.

The latest of the Indian's triumphs came yesterday when, in a somewhat farcical game they trimmed the Yankees 11 to 7. Four New York errors made the way a little easier for Peckinpough's outfit. Babe Ruth, ambitious to a fault, started off on a hunt for 1000 home runs by poling out the 501st of his career and the 31st of the year.

Thanks to a splendid performance by Rube Walberg, who announced his return to form by snuffing out the heavy-hitting Tigers, the Athletics picked up another game on their rivals. Walberg allowed but five hits. Al Simmons kept pace with the home run hitters by connecting for his 27th.

Red Sox Win
The White Sox suffered from too much Danny MacFayden and they lost the third of the series to the Red Sox, 3 to 2. MacFayden allowed but three hits in a fast 1 hour and 25 minutes game.

Garland Braxton held the Browns to five hits and the Senators made it three in a row, this time by 3 to 2.

The first three clubs in the national all took a fall yesterday. Chicago losing to the Braves, New York to Cincinnati and the Pirates to the Robins.

Guy Bush, leading pitcher in the National league suffered his second defeat of the year when the Braves humbled the leaders in ten innings.

Fete Donohue limited the Giants to five hits as the Reds won, 5 to 2.

Johnny Frederick, Rookie outfielder of the Robins, lifted a homer over the right field wall in the tenth with one on base to scuttle the Pirates 4 to 2.

Dodgers Again Defeat Pirates

Home Runs Again Play Important Part in Downfall Of Pirates;
Score 4 To 2

BROOKLYN, N. Y., Aug. 13.—The floundering Pirates floundered some more on Tuesday. The Dodgers for the second straight time hopped all over the Bushmen, and took a 4 to 2 victory. The game went ten innings. Home runs by Babe Herman and Frederick again caused the downfall of the Pittsburghers. Carmen Hill in a relief role was credited with the loss. Morrison gets credit for the win, after relieving Dudley.

Singer To Meet Gaston Charles

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 13.—(A) Singer, Bronx junior lightweight, goes to the post again tonight at the Queensboro Stadium in his final tuneup before his important meeting with Kid Chocolate at the Polo Grounds late this month.
Gaston Charles, rugged little Frenchman, will be Singer's opponent. Charles isn't much of a threat, but he expects to be on his feet at the end of ten rounds.

Field Club Trap Shoot Wednesday

The members of the New Castle Field club interested in trap shooting will meet Wednesday evening at 6:15 o'clock at the Field Club range for the purpose of holding a trap shoot. All those interested in this form of sport are urged to be present at the time designated.

PLAYERS AND MANAGER PLEASE TAKE NOTICE

Manager Clingensmith and players Nick Perry and Joe Lenheart of Cascadia A. C. are requested to get in touch with H. K. Bell, commissioner of the City-County League Wednesday morning at 9:30 o'clock at The News office. Matters of importance to all concerned are to be considered.

Mickey Walker To Lay Title Claim

(International News Service)
WILKES-BARRE, Pa. Aug. 13.—Mickey Walker, middleweight champion, will enter a claim for the lightweight boxing championship of the world as soon as it is relinquished by Tommy Loughran.

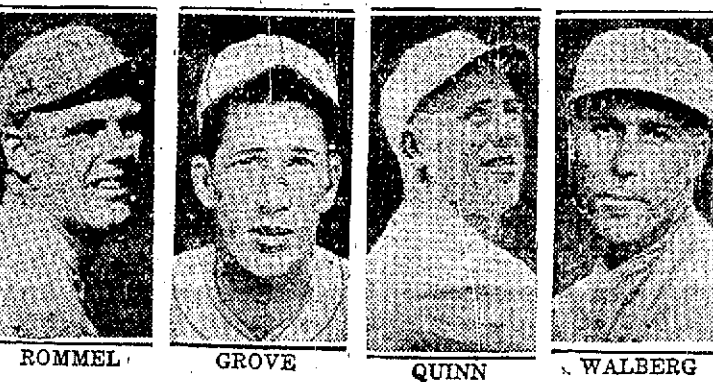

Such was the statement made here last night by Jack Kearns, manager of Walker, who declared that his fighter was clearly entitled to the crown.

It was stated at Walker's camp that Harry T. Farrell, member of the Pennsylvania Boxing Commission, would look favorably upon the Walker-Lonski fight at Philadelphia next week as a title contest if Loughran surrendered his throne this week.

And as a last division of labor, why not burden gangland with the duty of enforcing the law in its own camp?

"Look 'Em Over"

So Says Eddie Rommel, Athletics' Star, Pointing To "Greatest Staff In League"

ROMMEL GROVE QUINN WALBERG

By NORMAN E. BROWN
Sports Writer for Central Press
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—"We've got the greatest pitching staff in the league. And that isn't because I'm on it. I'm not doing so good, myself."

So speaks up Mr. Edward Rommel, dean of the hurling corps that is helping carry the Philadelphia Athletics to the pennant.

"Look 'em over. He has the fastest ball in baseball today. If not in the history of the game. Anybody who can turn in 14 or 15 victories while losing two games must have the stuff."

"Rube Walberg, just to make it uncomfortable for the opposition, has a great curve ball, as well as a fast one with a hop on it."

"Young Barnshaw is already a real pitcher, with but a year or two of big league experience. He has a beautiful change of pace."

"In other words Connie can shoot a fast ball artist at the opposition one day, a curve ball the next, and then hand them a pitcher who can fool them by mixing 'em up—fast ball, good curve and then the most tantalizing ball I've seen in a long time."

"You know Jack Quinn. Wise old head who can take his turn when needed. What he may lack in his arm, he's got in his head. Young Shores is doing his bit, too."

"I don't know just why I haven't been going as good as I should myself, unless it's because of lack of work. With four or five pitchers ready to go in you can't use every one of them."

"You can say this for the club, too. It isn't a one-man affair. We've just

Wampum-Italian Game Postponed

Game Scheduled For Centennial Field Wednesday Night If Off

Carm Sacco, the energetic business manager of the Italian A. A. in a straight-forward manner today informed The News that the Italian A. A. team would not tangle with the Wampum team here tomorrow night.

The schedule makers decided that the Italians should battle "Bob" Robinson and his hustling Wampumites on Wednesday night. Manager Black thought otherwise when he found that Duffie, Rodgers and General were on the crippled list.

The game will be played off next Monday night, at Centennial Field, weather allowing.

Ferro-Cangey Fight Monday

Lightweights Who Put Up Great Fight To Go Again Here

Few fans will ever forget the great fight which was staged here several weeks ago between Frankie Ferro and Paris Cangey, New Castle. Both bobbed up and down like corks until Cangey finally put over a punch that knocked out Ferro. Frankie terms the blow a fluke and says he would have taken Cangey had he not grown careless.

"Give me a return fight with Cangey and if I do not beat him I will retire from boxing," wired Ferro to Promoter Bill Jolly and he was signed.

There have been few fights like the one between Cangey and Ferro and when they meet next Monday night it probably will draw the biggest crowd of the season as both stand up like Grade and Carpenter, whale away and the heaviest punch in the coming bout will "bring home the bacon."

Joe Dinger, local 150-pounder, will fight Jimmy Belmont, Braddock, who was a favorite here last summer. They will box in the semi-final.

Perhaps one would be safer always to ask the hitch-hiker if he intends to make a hole in one.

Cleveland Indians Take Another Fall Out Of Yankees As Macks Win

Roger Peckinpough Has His Indians Playing Heads-Up Baseball

By HENRY McCLEMORE
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, N. Y., Aug. 13.—In judging your reasons why the Yankees are some 11 and 1-2 games in arrears of the Athletics please put Cleveland somewhere near the top.

Connie Mack Is Ticked At Idea Of Getting World's Series Again

By DAVID J. WALSH
Sports Editor, International News Service
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—After thinking things over, there probably was nothing for Connie Mack to do this morning but to break right down pitilessly—and laugh. No doubt, the disliking of all self-control in this unmanly way but the provocation was great. He had seen Rube Walberg pitch a five-hit shutout against the Detroit Tigers the day before and if this wasn't maddening to the mailman, then Mr. Mack is willing to wait until another delivery is made. It was the first ball game Walberg ever had gone so far as to finish in his last four starts and, in the light of later developments, the circumstances might very well furnish the great conqueror of the 1929 pennant race.

Pennant race? About the only people who realize that a race still is on are the Athletics and Yankees but, if you think both of them aren't avidly aware of the fact, that is your error. Indeed, the way the Philadelphia pitchers weren't pitching, some had begun to suspect that, among those scheduled to stagger home, would be father on Saturday night and the Athletics ball club. Grove has turned in one winning start in more than two weeks and the only way he can finish nine innings is under a shower. He was knocked out in Detroit against last Saturday but Simmons blew two homers off the playground and the game was won. Yes, the club still is winning but for two weeks or more it has been doing it, not because of its pitchers, but in spite of them.

Earnshaw Ragged
The gave Earnshaw five runs the other day before he pitched a ball and he couldn't win. He has turned in one sound effort since late July—his defeat of the Yanks in Philadelphia. Quinn never recovered from his fourteen-inning game with the Yanks back in June and Rummel no longer gets the nod when relief is indicated. A young man by the name of Shores now fills that role with no great distinction. As for Ehmke, he was left behind in Philadelphia after the teaming have a trial balance of the burden the rest of the outfit has been carrying.

Walberg Is Good
It couldn't have carried it indefinitely. It doesn't look now as though it will have to. Walberg's performance yesterday took some of the weight off the Athletics and put it on the other clubs, for it was the old McCoy in every respect. A pitcher can have an ordinary day and shout out a few clubs I know. But only the great keep the tigers off the plate. Those lads don't hit the ball; they walk right out and conquer it. Walberg, therefore, may be assumed to be right again and one pitcher is liable to bring the others back again. Incidentally, the Yanks lost to the Indians yesterday, so the Athletics again are 11½ games out ahead of their field in spite of everything. Is that Mr. Mack I hear laughing? Under the circumstances, I think he ought to play his laughs on the basis of back-teeth-showing-or-no-count.

Some Versatile Stars

This Specializing Age tends to discourage versatility even in sports but, while their numbers grow fewer, the all-around athlete is nowhere near becoming an extinct genus. Individual enthusiasm and talent, encouraged by strong public admiration, will always make versatility a popular attraction.

Of all the versatile stars that ever shed radiance throughout the world of sports, Jim Thorpe was the brightest of all. He was a marvel at football, on the track in a variety of events, and he just missed stardom in big league baseball, though he started at the late age of 26. This Carlisle Indian could do so many athletic things superlatively well that he is unanimously recognized as the paragon of all-time, all-around athletes.

For several years, Thorpe's activities have been diminishing until now, in his middle forties, he is but a bulky shell of his former self, although, occasionally, he still flashes on the pro gridiron or minor league diamonds. With Thorpe but an immortal memory, turn for a moment to some current specimens of versatility as to swing Scarney picked his blows out of the air. He jabbed and had Florian missing like a wet spark plug. Just before the bell sounded Florian lunged after Scarney and the crowd yelled its appreciation when the bell sent the fighters to their corners.

Can't Land Effectively
They fiddled around the ring in the fifth. They talked to each other in an effort to coax each other into a lead so that terrific counter could result in a knockdown or knockout but both were wary and the round was not fast.

They shook hands for the sixth and last round and pummeled each other around the stomach but Scarney's blocking was good and Florian couldn't land effectively. They swung a lot of punches but few landed in the sixth. Scarney was the decision.

Jack De Neri, 126, Cleveland, featherweight protégé of Young Tommy McInnis, Cleveland race track and fight promoter, defeated Zivie Anthony, West Indian of Pittsburgh, who weighed 128 1-2. The West Indian's ringcraft more than anything else carried him along.

Irish Kane, handler of Rosy Rosales seconded De Neri and he paced him along like a good trotter. In the second round Anthony was trying to hit something that never was present when the blow landed and he was dropped for nine. He got up.

De Neri Looks Good
He tried to escape De Neri in the third and did last the round though it was seen that De Neri was just beginning to go to work as he can and in the fourth Anthony took such a whaling around the body he dropped to a knee. The towel sailed in quickly.

Joe Midway, New Castle, 160, fought a good fight and defeated Joe Juhass, 162, of Beaver Falls. He carried the fight to Juhass delivered stinging rights to head and body and jabbed well. Juhass started off good but Midway's punching took the pep from him.

But the Beaver Falls boy kept trying and it was a good fight all the way and he lost the fight trying. Tom Farrow, New Castle, 167 1-4 made Ernest Sledge, 163 1-2, Butler, made colored, quit in the second round.

Pete Capitola kept time, George Chip was the third man. The judges were Paolia and Big Jim Dunn. Deputy Commissioner Gardner was in charge of the fight.

Italians Lambast Nord For Thirteen Hits To Take Lawrence County League Win

The Italian A. A. came another step closer the Lawrence County League flag in the second-half of the season, on Monday night, at the Bessemer field, by socking the Bessemerites 10 to 3.

Shiek on the hill for the Italians was in rare form, allowing but eight hits, and fanning six men. Nord on the rubber for the Bessemer team did not fare so well, being combed for thirteen hits.

The Italians scored four in the first inning, and came back with three in the fifth and sixth to take a victory by a score of 10 to 3. Fahey featured the game by hitting a home run. Hood had a double for the only other extra-base blow. Palus, Jones, Fahey and Black led the Italians at bat. Pokenen and Genero were the best hitters for Bessemer.

Danceland Asks Games Postponed

Manager Stanley has requested that the games scheduled this evening with Energy and Wednesday evening with the Boro A. A. be postponed until the same nights next week, because of the fact that his available players are working on a turn which prevents the playing of these games this week at the time scheduled. Managers of the Energy and Boro A. A. teams will please take notice of the change.

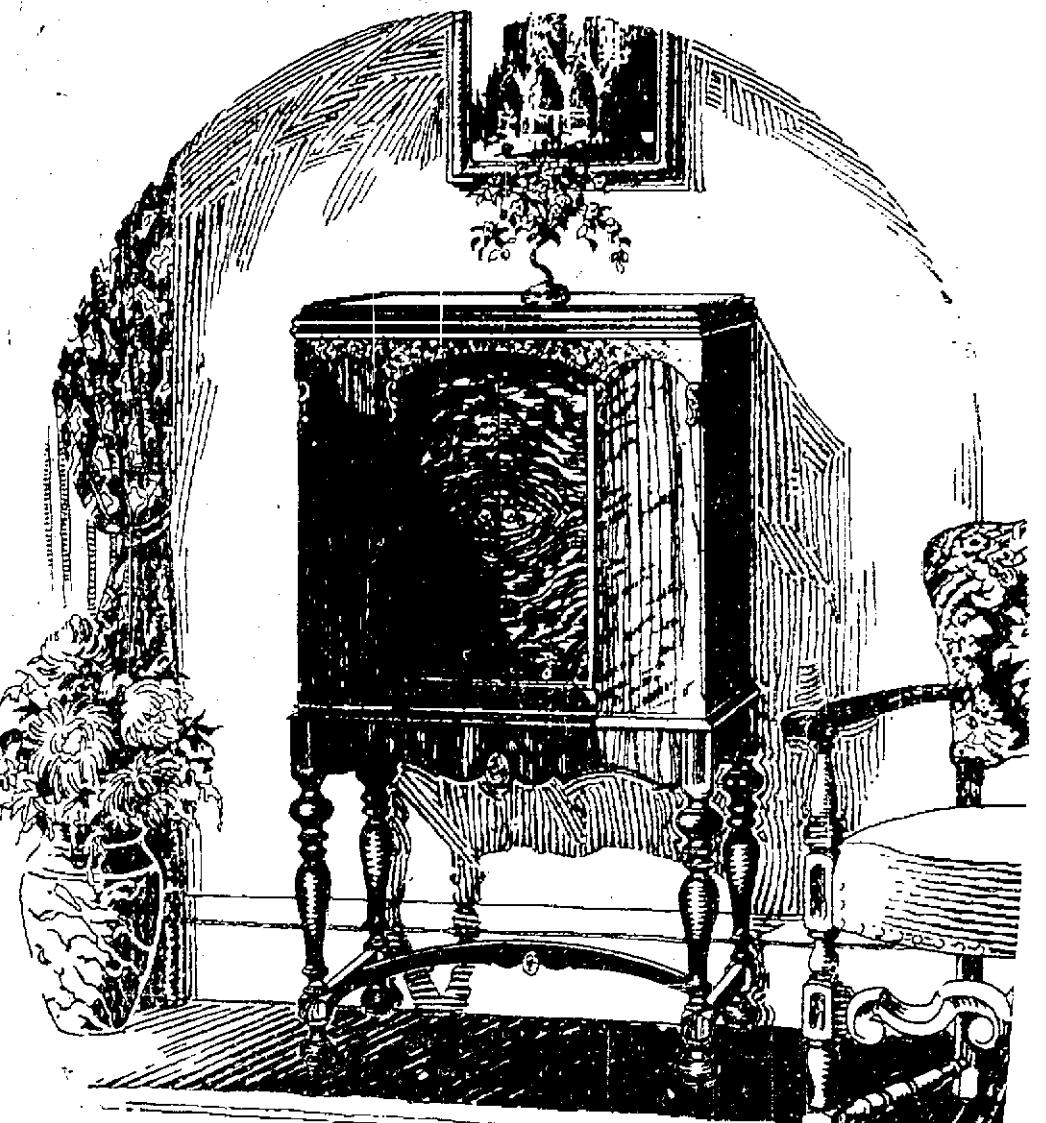

Loughran Will Give Up Title

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Today is expected to see the end of Tommy Loughran's reign over the light-heavyweight field.

Joe Smith, Loughran's manager, is in town and it is believed that he will tender Tommy's formal relinquishment of the throne to the State Athletic Commission at its session today.

Bush & Lane RADIO

NOTHING LIKE IT

You Owe It to Yourself to See This NEW Bush & Lane Radio Now On Display—A Real Surprise Awaits You!

There is a great deal of satisfaction to us in offering you these new models of Bush & Lane Radio. In each one a state-of-the-art is apparent that takes radio out of the commonplace, giving to it the status radio should have as a refined musical instrument. There is both a tonal and an artistic excellence that gives a clear meaning to the compliment: "Built like a Fine Piano."

Bush & Lane have used their thirty-eight years of experience in building fine pianos to produce a radio of dominant high character. With their talent and temperament it comes naturally by them to treat radio as they do their costly concert grands. So it is that Bush & Lane Radio differs from others in having greater attention paid to the factor of tone and beauty.

Tonal engineers have applied their skill to master the problems of resonance. Thus do you find in Bush & Lane Radio a rich tonal quality—dynamic reproduction developed to its full possibilities. Discordant vibrations have been subdued; clarity has been amplified.

Stations come in with a click. So sensitive and selective is this instrument that we delight in demonstrating its superiority. Receptivity, you know, more to be desired than selectivity. Once you turn the dial of a Bush & Lane Radio you realize that you have opened the gateway to a new-found radio pleasure. Let us prove the truth of this.

National League Ump Is Operated Upon

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—John L. "Beans" Reardon, National league umpire, went under the surgeon's knife at St. Francis hospital here Monday afternoon for appendicitis.
The operation was reported to have been successful and his condition was improving, attaches at the hospital said.
Reardon was admitted Thursday to the hospital and an operation was decided upon Saturday. He had hoped to forestall it until the end of the major league season.
"Peace advocates can no longer speak of our 3000 miles of unguarded frontier along the Canadian border, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. Maybe it would help some if they pushed the border back to a point requiring one hour's sailing into Canada."

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Without attempting to criticize the committee on arrangements, or the publicity manager, candor prompts me to arise in my place, and declare in no uncertain tones that the earthquake of Monday morning was more or less of a flop.

Any earthquake having any regard for the publicity value, to be gained, or the offers of vaudeville following would certainly have conducted itself in a manner far different than the one of yesterday.

To set down in orderly fashion, or something, the various shortcomings of the earthquake the following can be found fault with it.

First. It happened at 7:15 a. m. A time when no newspaper man (if he can help it) is out of bed. What good is an earthquake if you can't have them happen at 10 o'clock in the morning?

Second. It didn't quake enough to arouse any attention. Sort of snuck up on us if you get what I mean.

Third. No startled residents rushed out into the streets proclaiming that the end of the world was at hand.

Fourth. It didn't push over a few buildings in this city that have needed an earthquake since the time of the Spanish-American war. Names will be furnished upon request. All requests considered confidential.

Now that the story has been before you for a day, a lot of your neighbors probably will recall the fact that they felt something or other at 7:15 Monday morning.

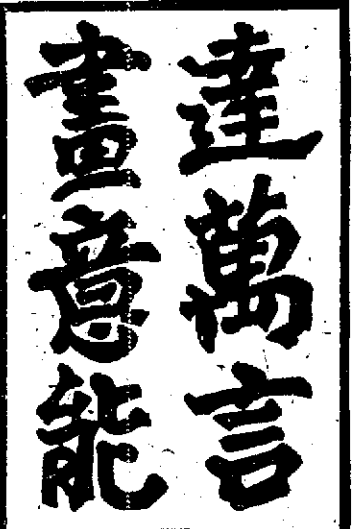

One perfectly respectable citizen says he felt his bed move but was afraid to say anything when he came down for fear he would be accused of being drunk.

One East Side lady said she felt the house shake but thought it was just her husband tripping over the gas stove in the bathroom.

Pete Capitulo slept right through the earthquake. When Pete gets asleep it takes more than a half-pint size quake to wake him up.

Several very scientific reasons have been advanced for the quake. One lad with the degree of B. B. (Bachelor of Baloney) claims that it wasn't a quake at all. It was merely a bunch of candidates stampeding the court house to get their petitions filed.

Wun Lung Gawn, the eminent Chinese philosopher, who does a little laundering on the side, went into detail on the quake, its ancestors, its itinerary and its future development. In order that you may know just exactly what the gentleman said I am quoting below, verbatim, his statement. It follows:

Reading from north to south or from east to west, depending upon where you are sitting, if any, you can immediately discern the logic of his argument, the clarity of his statements, and the entire soundness of his position. Darr, clever these Chinese!

Even a five-ton truck gets stuck sometimes. One of these broad shouldered babies that haul dirt stuck a wheel in a hole back of The News building yesterday afternoon, where they are excavating for a new building, and for a while it looked like a game of some kind. One truck backed up to it and pushed, while the steam shovel put its hooks over in an endeavor to "poosh it, oop."

Very ritzy affair in Bessemer last night, oh ver' ritzy. Brass band, speeches, automobile parade and everything but a lap lunch. The folks over there are right proud of their new road to the state line and they have a right to be. A concrete ribbon to the state line and a road that "love to touch." The fire department was out but they weren't needed. The road was still dusty, so dusty in fact that by the time a few cars churned it up it looked like a Mojave desert on a windy day.

Archie Shoup is really to blame. Archie represents the law and order of Bessemer and promised Pete Lightner that he would have the sprinkling cart out. Apparently the cart got upset or something. Anyway, it's a good road.

Roy Wallis acted as Master of Ceremonies with all the dignity and elation of a jazz band director. He ran his show off with a lot of speed and sent the customers away with a smile.

Tom McCullough and Phil Elder, who are by way of being county commissioners were present with smiles as thick as the meringue on a lemon pie. It is just another feather in their caps, or rather slouch hats to see a new road opened.

Pleasant evening everybody happy and a nice drive. Then to the Jolly bowl where the Masters of Maul held forth. It was a rough night for some of the lads, Norman Martin claiming he could feel some of the wallops out at the ringside. But Norman is a good game spectator. He can see a fellow get knocked out and never turn a hair.

Necessity may be the Mother of invention, but it is stred by Imagination.

Elks Will Hold

Big Picnic Friday

There Will Be Something Doing For Everybody

New Castle Lodge No. 69 of Elks have made plans for a big-get-together of Brother Bills and their families in an old-time basket picnic at Elma Springs Park on Friday of this week.

All indications point to a real affair as the different committees have been planning for some time and promise a real good time to all. Sports of all kinds have been arranged so that the old and young, fat and slender, big and little kiddies can have a part. Handsome prizes will be awarded the winners and there is sure to be some real competition and many records broken.

One of the features of the day will be the big league baseball game between the old timers, the stars of yesterday, and the yearlings, the kids who have yet to make their records. Both sides say they will win but we are willing to place our cash on the old boys unless they get tired running the bases.

The big event of the day will be the tug-of-war between the luckies (married men) and the unluckies (unmarried men) and from the reports from the two training camps there is sure going to be some battle. Bathing and boating will be on the program and all kinds of races will attract the interest of the members and their guests.

All Elks and their families are most cordially invited and this day will go down in the annals of Elksdom as one of the real red letter days long to be remembered.

Unification Of Red Army Ordered

(International News Service)
MOSCOW, Aug. 13.—The Soviet revolutionary military council today ordered the unification of all the Red armed forces in the far east (Siberia) under command of Gen. Blucher, the commander-in-chief of the Red armies in the far east during the civil war period.

Youths Confess Series Of Crimes

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 13.—A list of robberies and holdups had been confessed today by five boys from prominent Brookline families, police at Mt. Washington stated.

Thomas Baird, 19; Paul Frank, 18; John Gormley, 18; Paul Anderson, 18, and Raymond Minnick, 19, confessed, officers said, to perpetrating a series of holdups and robberies in the Beechview and Brookline districts within the past three months.

Censorship in Boston should enable a lot of chaps to do a thriving business in booklegging.
